

BE EMPLOYABLE

(GET READY FOR YOUR DREAM OFFER LETTER)

Introduction of the trainer:

Mr. Sukrut Patwardhan has a commendable experience of corporate trainings. With his wonderful communication skills he makes his presence felt vibrantly.

He has successfully completed his B.E (E & TC) and PGDBA (HR) as a specialization. He is certified ICF approved Certified Leadership Coach. He accomplished International certification in Soft skills from Pebbles Hills University and successfully completed certification in learning and development manager from Carlson University USA.

He has catered around 50 + clients which include educational institutes, manufacturing companies, IT companies and many more.

As a trainer and coach, he is on a mission of reaching 10 million people to transform and transcend their lives to unleash the human potential.

Authors Note

Dear reader,

It is a pleasure writing my first book which can add value in people's lives and especially the book can benefit my graduate friends who are ready to start their corporate journey.

This book also benefits employees who are stuck in their daily routine and not climbing the ladder of success.

I strongly believe that you need a skillful mind and the ability to perform if you want success in your career and the same idea came to my mind before writing this book. Your degree can give you enough knowledge but if it is not supported by skills and abilities then it doesn't add value.

In this book, every chapter and page is designed to share an idea and technique which will help you to become employable.

This book is a combined effort of my team who helped and supported me to publish this book.

I would also thank Mr. Nitin Soni and the entire team of Adhyayan Book who played a major role to design and publish my book.

I also wish you dedicate this book to my family who encouraged me to pen down my ideas and experience.

I believe you will enjoy reading this book as much as I enjoyed writing and creating a systematic process to become employable.

I wish you all the best and wish you have a great journey.

Your friend,
Sukrut Patwardhan

Introduction of Be Employable:

Experience and education do not guarantee success. People generally succeed or fail because of their behavior and traits.

A study by Leadership IQ found that 46% of new hires fail within 18 months and that 89% of these failures are due to poor attitude rather than lack of skills.

This book is beneficial for students to demonstrate their knowledge, skills, and abilities at the time of the recruitment process. They will be able to write better resumes, participate in group discussions, handle situational questions and convince the employer in the process of a Personal interview.

After reading the book and taking all the steps, you can be entirely visible to the employer, and the employer can believe in you as an asset to the organization.

So after reading the book, you will be able to understand

1. What is employability?
2. What is the selection process as per Competency matrix?
3. How to have the right balance of hard skills and soft skills
4. Top 10 reasons of rejections from interviews
5. Flourish your top 15 soft skills to get a job or promotion
6. How to create a resume and create a good impression?

7. How to prepare for group discussion?
8. 3 steps success formula for personal interview
9. Important skills and lots of tips and techniques
10. How to succeed in a Virtual Interview?

So let us get started for the exciting journey which will transform and transcend your life and I wish you all the best for your success.

Contents

1	What is Employability?	1
2	Competency Matrix	6
3	Common Selection Process of an organization	16
4	Employment Challenges	20
5	What your Employer is looking for in you?	23
6	Flourish your top 15 soft skills to get a job or promotion	30
7	How to create an impressive Resume?	70
8	Group Discussion	101
9	Getting Ready for an Interview	116
10	How to Succeed in a Virtual Interview?	141

What is Employability?

Employability refers to a person's capability for gaining and maintaining employment. For individuals, employability depends on the knowledge, skills, and abilities they possess, the way they present those assets to employers, and the context within which they seek work.

Your employability is nothing but your knowledge, skills, and personal attributes that are important for you to gain a job and work satisfactorily.

Let us talk about benefits of employability skills for employees:

- 1. It helps you to make better choices and take decision accurately
- 2. It helps you to think ahead
- 3. It helps you to understand company’s strategy and implement it
- 4. It helps you to become a good analyzer and planner
- 5. It can help you in learning and development
- 6. Helps you to become competitive

The term employability is used in different contexts and in different ways. Let us look at one more approach to employability given by the University of Edinburgh.

Employability is not the same as gaining a graduate job, rather it is about the capacity to function successfully in a role and be able to move between occupations, thus remaining employable throughout life.

Employability is not	Employability is simply getting a job	ongoing success for now and in the future, whatever career or career(s) a student chooses
a list of skills that can be ‘taught’	drawing on a range of skills, abilities and attributes that are developed in a whole range of settings and that vary from individual to individual

the sole responsibility of the Careers Service and the Employability Consultancy	a University-wide responsibility the same as Personal Development Planning (PDP)	an ongoing developmental process that benefits from active reflection something new	more important now than ever before in light of the world graduates are entering

Let us understand why is employability important for students?

To be employed is to be at risk, to be employable is to be secure
—Peter Hawkins (1999)

1. Remaining competitive to reflect

Learning at college can give you benefit in your future profession. For a beginning, you'll have the option to apply to occupations that determine that you should be an alumnus and the subject you considered or the grade you accomplished might be pertinent to certain businesses. Be that as it may, regardless of whether you have a five-star degree and an important subject for the profession you need, you will doubtlessly be contending with other people who have something very similar or comparable scholastic capabilities. Subsequently, it's your employability; the special blend of abilities; capacities, and individual characteristics that you have, that will make you stand apart from the group.

2. Achieving your goals and dreams

The world of work changes quickly. Your career is probably going to include various occupation jobs and bosses, and regardless of whether you stay in a similar occupation, it is probably going to change its tendency over the long haul. Consequently, employability abilities are helpful as they are adaptable; you can adjust them to whichever circumstance you end up in.

3. Enhancing your education to get visible to the employer

Learning through a variety of different methods (e.g. through your academic studies, through work experience, and volunteering) gives you a well-rounded education.

Let us understand why is employability important for employees?

The things employers generally value in new graduates are things that most teachers in higher education generally value
—Harvey & knight (2003)

1. Connect with co-workers to achieve organizational goals.

Employability skills can develop team spirit among employees which can be beneficial for the organizations to achieve organizational goals.

2. Be a part and understand their role within the team.

Personal characteristics, habits, and attitudes influence how you interact with others. Bosses value employability abilities since they view these as signs of how you coexist with different representatives. This is useful for employees to have absolute clarity to understand their roles, understand other's roles and achieve cohesiveness within the team.

3. Create a growth mindset to achieve a win-win situation

Employability is all about working on different skills which will help employees to work on high energy, morale and motivation. Employees put themselves on the path of the growth mindset.

In this book, our approach is to prepare ourselves to get the job and start the professional journey in the industry.

After going through the definition of employability and analyzing all the benefits of employability, let us understand the common selection process and competency matrix in the next topic.

Summary

1. Define Employability?
2. Write down the benefits of Employability for students and Employees
3. Why is employability important for students?
4. Why is employability important for employees?

Competency Matrix

(www.pinterest.com)

With the ever-evolving and diversifying business challenges, the approach to the management of human resources has also undergone a paradigm shift because for every industry change is the constant thing to grow and flourish. A well-defined and uniform competency framework is the first step towards an organized approach to the human resource management of the organization.

Definition of Competency - What are Competencies?

Competence has been long understood as a person's ability or capacity to do a job. It was devised in the 1970s by the US Company McBer to identify the specific personal characteristics which resulted effective and/or superior performance.

What exactly is the idea behind competencies?

1. Every job has a requirement of a specific set of competencies to undertake it with effectiveness and conviction, and the individuals who would perform the task need to be laced with those competencies. One of the fascinating and worth focusing on part of this term is that it centers not around what an individual can do but rather on what an individual can realize. This forward-looking methodology makes it very famous among preparing suppliers and enlistment specialists.

2. Competencies with their specific behavioral indicators facilitate the demonstration of appropriate skills and behaviors, it is not a set of tasks performed like a robot neither it is an underlying capacity that is never demonstrated.

3. Competency also includes motivation and self-knowledge, a desire and willingness to demonstrate effective performance.

Let me give you a simple and practical example of competency: Making a cup of tea

The competencies required for this is:

Able to boil water safely

Able to locate the correct ingredients

Able to identify an appropriate vessel

Able to pour water into vessel without spillage to the correct level

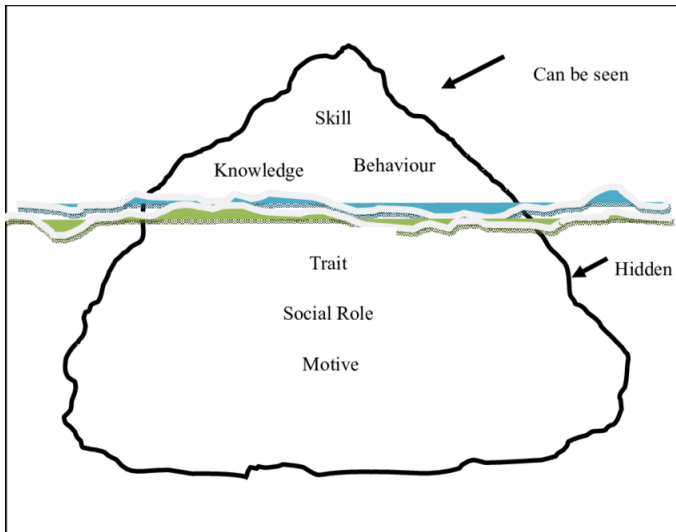

Competency includes the following elements:

(www.careercliff.com)

Competency Ice-Berg Model

The iceberg model for competencies takes the help of an iceberg to explain the concept of competency. An iceberg that has just one-ninth of its volume above water and the rest remains beneath the surface in the sea. Similarly, a competency has some components which are visible like knowledge and skills but other behavioral components like attitude, traits, thinking styles, self-image, organizational fit etc. are hidden or beneath the surface.

(www.researchgate.net)

In the traditional method of hiring, most of the organizations looked at just the visible components of competencies; the knowledge and skills, believing that the behavioral aspects can be developed through proper guidance and good management. However, with major shifts in the conventional methods of people management, the hiring process has also undergone a change therefore a lot of emphasis is being put on the hidden behavioral aspects as well to make a sound decision. Hence, a complete picture regarding the competence of a person consists of both visible and hidden aspects and it becomes necessary to understand both to arrive at identifying the best man for a job.

Overview of Competency Framework and its Benefits

A competency framework is a thorough design that depicts various capabilities with its particular arrangement of conduct markers and estimation standards. The greater part of the associations has their unmistakable arrangement of capability structure which is in arrangement with their dreams and mission and long and momentary hierarchical objectives.

There are certain clear benefits of the competency framework for the organizations:

1. A common understanding of critical success factors and desired behaviors within the organization.
2. Integration of organizational process to competencies helps the interpretation of big picture concerns in day to day working.
3. Better management and effective decisions regarding cost intensive processes like selection, hiring and promotions.
4. Assessment, feedback and communication regarding performance becomes standardized thus facilitating a common culture.

Example of competency framework by BARS method

This table shows the BARS method to identify the competency level of different designations.

BARS: Training Manager

Sr. No	Competency	Level 1 Beginner	Level 2 Learner	Level 3 Advanced	Level 4 Expert
1	Communication Skills	Managing communication by gathering lot of words	Managing communication by reducing words and having more clarity	Able to convey ideas and thoughts more clearly and concisely	Able to convey ideas and thoughts very efficiently from top to bottom
2	Innovation	Shows innovation in day to day activity	Uses different ways and tries new things to get the job done	Implements a fresh and new approach by which job is getting done in an effective manner	Implements and encourages others to take risks to promote new ideas to achieve goals

3	Strategic Planning	Has limited organizational and environmental awareness	Has a bigger picture and awareness about the organizational strategies	Tries understanding the environment and organization in a better way by asking questions, observation and takes decision	Has a deep and clear understanding of the vision, mission and values and the steps which needs to be taken and takes the effective, smart decision
4	Decision Making	Makes quality decision by taking continuous advice	Consistently makes decision independently	Consistently gathers all information in detail and prepares statistics and takes decisions	Accurately predicts the outcome, find out the alternatives in advance and solve problems accordingly

5	Time Management	Completing only the high priority job and not by dividing and categorizing	Able to complete the priority work in advance	Able to complete the priority work in advance and able to have a plan of work also	Able to define daily activities into categories such as urgent and important, not urgent and important, urgent and not important, and not urgent and not important
6	Training Delivery	Knows how to design and deliver the training according to the needs	Has the ability to collaborate and develop the training plans	Has the ability to collaborate, design, deliver and influence audience	Has the ability to coach individuals and develop the managerial pipeline

7	Planning	Rarely manages the details pertaining to situational data while planning	Able to focus on required inputs and use the planner in a better way	Considers all issues while planning and conducts costs and Tred analysis	Able to know the input sources to be considered for planning, also knows the right kind of investigations by asking open/ close ended questions
8	Budget Management	Ability to manage as per budget with proper guidance	Ability to manage the budget independently	Able to create a budget and training plan accordingly for optimal utilization	Ability to manage budget in line with the global market

After deep understanding of competency model, it is very easy for us to understand the selection process of an organization and we will also understand which assessment can assess visible components and which assessment can assess hidden behavioral aspects.

Let us have a look at common selection process of an organization in the next topic.

Summary

1. Define Competency and give appropriate example in your own words?
2. What competencies are required for your industry and profile?
3. Write complete BARS chart for your designation.

Common Selection Process of an organization

APPLY (ON–CAMPUS/OFF CAMPUS)
SHORT LISTING
APTITUDE TEST (MATHAMATICS/ENGLISH)
PSYCHOMETRIC ASSESSMENT
GROUP DISCUSSION
TECHNICAL ROUNDS
HR ROUND
ACCEPTANCE OF DREAM OFFER LETTER

This is a common selection process of an organization and it changes from company to company. I am sure that you are able to make a judgment about the process which is being conducted and the skills which employers can access from that process. Once you understand the selection process you will be able to practice more and get acquainted with every selection process of an organization.

Let us understand each step in detail

1. Apply to the company

This is the process of applying to the company by visiting the website or sending the resume to HR by email. Sometimes you receive an automatic response and confirmation about receiving your details.

2. Short Listing process

If your profile gets shortlisted, you either receive an email or a call from the HR team and the next process is all about sending all necessary documents or visits the company for different rounds.

3. Aptitude test

In some cases, the company would like to conduct an aptitude test to measure an applicant's Mathematical Aptitude, General Knowledge, Verbal Ability, Abstract Reasoning, and Reading Comprehension. Once you clear the test based on the company's criteria then you will be called for the next rounds.

4. Psychometric Assessment

A psychometric test, or aptitude test, provides insights into someone's cognitive ability and indicates the potential of a candidate to excel in a position or career.

5. Group Discussion

Group Discussion round is conducted by most of the companies as this is an important part of the selection procedure. The selection of candidates also depends on the performance in the group discussion. Group Discussion is not a part of the regular academic curriculum in Schools, Colleges, and Universities.

6. Technical rounds

The most important round in the interview is the Technical Round. This is the only round where you get the golden opportunity to demonstrate your domain skills and you can prove how you can add value to the organization. There is a possibility that you have to give multiple rounds to prove your knowledge, skills, and abilities.

7. HR round

HR interviews are very tricky. The interviewers pay attention to what you say, and what you don't say as well. These are some of the questions that they ask to assess the candidate. Every company has its own set of ways to function. So HR interview gives a clear picture of candidates' personality. In terms of how much work stress he/she can handle, how passionate the candidate is. This round often tests the candidate's behavioral skills.

8. Acceptance of the dream offer letter

After completion of all the rounds you get an offer letter with your dream package and it is the time to give a final thought about your employment. It is also the time to think of your goals and your career plan. You can confirm to the organization by sending an email or sometimes the organization takes a bond or signs a contract of employment.

Summary

1. Write down the recruitment process of your designation or industry.
2. Explain your own experience of the recruitment process and difficulties faced in the process.

Employment Challenges

In this segment, we are going to discuss why one is not able to get employment? - Here are Top 10 reasons.

1. Graduation with not so good grades

Some companies have strict criteria of 60 % or aggregate 60 % and that is the reason some students face a problem of getting shortlisted in the selection process.

2. Lack of communication skills

As a student, lack of communication means not able to convey the message in your own words which creates either misunderstanding or ambiguities. Lack of communication will affect your performance in the selection process.

3. Lack of language skills(English)

Many students are not fluent in English. Because of the global market the whole world is open to you and sky is the limit for your growth but sometimes we don't prepare ourselves and we don't use the language which is accepted at a global platform. I am talking about English language and having fluency over the language.

4. Lack of logical reasoning

Logical reasoning is the process of using a rational, systematic series of steps based on sound mathematical procedures and given statements to conclude If we don't practice logical reasoning, we may not be able to crack aptitude tests and aptitude test is the gate to open the door of next rounds.

5. Lack of English aptitude

Along with logical reasoning, English aptitude is also conducted to check your English proficiency. We have to work on these aspects also to clear the English aptitude test. These are not difficult but a bit critical.

6. Lack of confidence

Confidence is the quality of being certain of your abilities and should be able to demonstrate at the time of the interview. Confidence can be demonstrated by words, body language, tone, clarity of thoughts.

7. Inadequate technology knowledge.

Technology is changing every day and we have to update ourselves as per the need. Most of the recruiters take multiple technical rounds to reconfirm the technology check and select the candidate for the next round.

What this book can do for you?

This book is specifically designed for students who are looking for first job and would like to start their career in any of the industries. It covers all the aspects of soft skills including 15 very important skills and their benefits at workplace and for career development.

This book will act as a guide to you and create power of readiness. This book will also talk about dos and don'ts at the time of interview.

This book can build confidence in you to face any selection process and get the first offer letter.

This book contains 3 actionable steps success formula to create impressive resume, participate in group discussion and facing personal interview confidently.

Make an impressive Resume

Group Discussion

Personal Interview

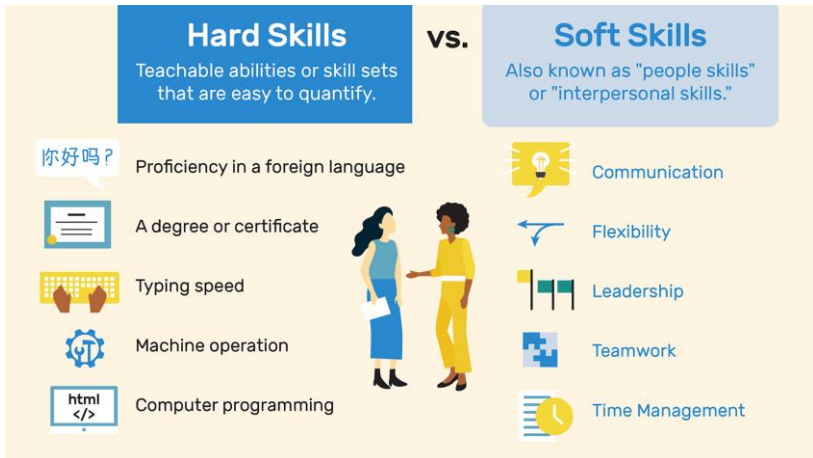

Summary

1. What are the Employment challenges you are currently facing?
2. Write down the steps to overcome your current Employment challenges?

What your Employer is looking for in you?

5

(www.thebalancecareer.com)

In this segment, we are going to discuss the important aspect about what employer is looking for in you and for that let us discuss the importance of hard skills and soft skills termed as two sides of a coin.

What's the difference between hard skills and soft skills?

The key difference between hard skills and soft skills are how they are gained and put to use in the workplace.

Hard skills are often gained through education or specific training. They include competencies like how to use a certain machine, software or another tool.

Soft skills are more often seen as personality traits you may have spent your whole life developing. They are called upon when you manage your time, communicate with other people or confront a difficult situation for the first time.

Put another way, hard skills could be defined as your technical knowledge whereas soft skills are your overall habits in the workplace.

Let me give you some more examples of soft skills and hard skills

SALES

knowledge of their market, Retain the clients

Interpersonal skills and Negotiation

SPORTS

Process, Rules, Mastery on one skill

Team building and leadership

You take any industry, soft skills and hard skills go hand in hand. Let me ask you interesting question. How many years you have spent to learn hard skills? May be you will say 5 years, 10 years or simply 3 years of graduation. But let me ask you this. How many years you have spent to master the art of soft skills? Trust me this answer can be the game changer.

Let us talk about research on soft skills and hard skills. Look at this picture. This research is done by LinkedIn and it says that soft skills are more important for career progression.

(www.linkedin.com)

Let me give you my own example that how I realized that Soft skills are equally important. One of the jobs was with an insurance company and I worked with that company for around 2 years. After 1 year I got promoted as a team leader because my performance was better than other employees. My event processing time was lesser than other employees and based on that I got promoted and I came to know that now I am supposed to handle the same team with whom I worked.

After some days I realized that apart from communication, presentation and punctuality I needed some more skills like rapport building, team building, and leading the team towards common goals.

I took some more days to learn these techniques by getting some certifications, coaching, and working on live situations then I started handling the team in a good manner.

Let us do one exercise to understand this magic better.

1. Pick up your profession where you would like to make your career.
2. List down technical skills which are required to complete the task.
3. List down soft skills which are required to complete the task
4. Kindly mention without soft skills will you be able to complete the task successfully?

Based on my 10 years of research and development I can simply tell you that your employer is looking at the combination of hard skills and Soft skills. When are you starting this journey?

(www.facebook.com)

Summary

1. Define Soft skills with examples.
2. Write down 3 soft skills that are helpful for your industry and your profile.
3. Write down steps and action plan to improve soft skills.

Flourish your top 15 soft skills to get a job or promotion

6

Soft skills are personal qualities and non-technical skills that enable you to work more effectively with other people.

It's very easy for anyone to look at the list above and tell themselves that they are proficient in any one or all of the skills listed. For instance, how do you know if you're a creative person or a good communicator?

Developing soft skills requires a bit of desire and a lot of honesty. Talk to trusted friends, co-workers and even former supervisors about what they think are your strongest soft skills.

If you want to get ahead in your career, we are going to discuss Flourish your top 15 soft skills to get a job or promotion.

1. Effective Communication

(www.successsignature.co.ke)

Effective communication is a cycle of trading thoughts, musings, information and data to such an extent that the reason or goal is satisfied in the most ideal way. In basic words, it is only the introduction of perspectives by the sender in a manner best comprehended by the recipient.

Benefits of Effective Communication

In the workplace, one of the most important skills to possess is good communication. Employers' value employees who can communicate effectively; it means they are able to listen to others, as well as successfully relay their own ideas and opinions.

The many benefits of effective communication are:

1. Reduces conflict

The primary reason for the occurrence of conflict is poor or misunderstood communication. It is needless to accept that effective communication plays important role to reduce conflict and improve interpersonal skills. Learning effective communication skills helps a person to be a good negotiator. The person is then able to resolve conflicts, build harmony and bridge communication gaps.

2. Better acceptance of ideas

Effective communication is very broad concept and helps to discover the wants and needs of others. You can thus adjust your pitch in order to match the needs and create a win-win situation. Gradually people will come to know that you try to understand them and you are making efforts to present and share the ideas for personal and professional growth.

3. Building trust

Effective communication fosters trust with others. Your ability of deep listening, attention to details and embrace different points of view helps others trust that you are making optimal decisions for everyone in the group. As you serve as a role model, this belief of trust will extend to your team and the team will feel that they can trust their teammates to fulfill their duties and responsibilities.

4. Improves productivity

When team members understand their roles and responsibilities, the roles of others and try to meet expectations, they can focus more on their work and less on workplace issues. With effective communication, conflicts are resolved quickly, employees can better manage their workload and distractions are minimized. These benefits add to greater productivity for you and your team.

5. Boosts morale among employees

Effective communication encourages the exchange of new ideas. The happier an employee is in the office, the more they increase work output and generate results. Effective communication also encourages the flow of new ideas, boosts creativity that could help a business operate more efficiently.

Tips and Techniques to improve Effective Communication

1. Master your Body Language, tone and words
2. Active Listening is very important factor to improve communication effectively
3. Practice becoming assertive communicator
4. Learn the power of courtesy and practice in your personal and professional life
5. Start appreciating people around you and acknowledge their presence in your life
6. Learn 7 C's of communication for business correspondence
7. Build rapport with people to create win –win situation
8. Learn the power of 'No' to express yourself
9. Use right questioning to get the appropriate response
10. Practice and master 90 -10 principle to make every communication successful

2. Presentation Skills

Presentation plays important role in business communication. You can make your own identity based on your skills and ability to impress others. Presentation skills refer to all the qualities you need to create and deliver a clear and effective presentation. While what you say during a show matters, managers additionally esteem the capacity to make supporting materials, like slides. Your forthcoming boss might need you to convey briefings and reports to partners, lead instructional courses, present data to customers, or play out quite a few different errands that include talking before a crowd of people.

The benefits of Presentation Skills are:

1. Growth and opportunity:

Presentations help an individual or a team in enhancing their own growth opportunities. In addition, it also grooms the personality of the presenter and elevates his levels of confidence.

In most of the cases your presentation is directly adds the value to grow your business.

2. Achieve company goals:

If there should arise an occurrence of striking arrangements and acquiring customers, it is fundamental for the business experts to comprehend the crowd. Great presentation skills empower a person to form his message as per the qualities of the crowd. This expands the likelihood of fruitful transmission of messages.

3. Success at workplace:

Business professionals have to arrange webinars or seminars and give presentations almost every day. For some professions like sales and marketing and project management, it is a part and parcel of their daily routine. Having good presentation skills not only increases an individual's chances of success, but also enables him to add value and contribute to the organization.

Tips and Techniques to improve Presentation Skills

1. Plan your presentation in advance
2. Prepare yourself and prepare your content well
3. Use different methods and tools to practice (e.g. mirror exercise, free demos)
4. Present with confidence, authority and conviction
5. Be clear with purpose of the presentation
6. Use humor to avoid boredom

7. Work on visual presentation
8. Present in your own style and manage your grooming and appearance
9. Develop ability of story telling
10. Follow time management and organize your presentation by managing stressful situations, criticism etc.

3. Intrapersonal skills

(www.slideshare.net)

Intrapersonal abilities are about mindfulness and controlling your own inward exchange mentalities and internal cycles. Your intrapersonal abilities structure the establishment on which you assemble your associations with others since they help you all the more effectively explore your interpersonal relationships.

The benefits of Intrapersonal Skills are:

1. Level of understanding increases:

With Intrapersonal skills, individuals get themselves and their feelings. At the point when you converse with yourself you comprehend yourselves better. Comprehend your emotional state. It decides everything for you.

2. Understand situations better:

Talking about Intrapersonal skills helps you to grasp and understand the situations of others. We now and then attempt to keep ourselves in the shoes of others to feel what they feel.

3. Better Decision making and Problem Solving

On the off chance that somebody is especially into Intrapersonal Correspondence, it assists individuals with handling numerous circumstances as a main priority. Investigating issues turns out to be simple. The cycle of decision making improves and critical thinking upgrades with intrapersonal correspondence.

Tips and Techniques to improve Intrapersonal Skills

1. Self-reflection is the first key to master Intrapersonal skills
2. Introspect your thoughts everyday
3. Make SWOT analysis for all dimensions of your life
4. Practice meditation for peace and harmony
5. Do mirror exercise to build self esteem
6. Use Creative Visualization technique to have a bigger picture

7. Self-talk is essential to work on intrapersonal skills and improve self esteem
8. Follow gratitude in your life and count your blessings
9. Maintain a journal and write down your emotional state everyday
10. Hire a coach to uplift your intrapersonal skills and confidence

4. Leadership

“Leadership is the capacity to translate vision into reality,” said Warren Bennis, a pioneer in leadership research, and it is generally a leader’s responsibility to develop a vision for the people and institutions they direct. They likewise need to successfully impart their message to other people and inspire them to focus on those objectives too. Authority doesn’t rely upon one’s title. Pioneers can arise at any level in the event that they can persuade those with whom they team up to endeavor towards a shared objective.

Some benefits of Leadership are as follows:

1. Leadership in Business

The employees need leadership to show them heading, persuade and inspire them to perform at their best and control or debilitate any activities which might be harming to the business in general; while the clients and customers need leadership to motivate trust and confidence in the business' products or services.

2. Leadership in the Home

The home unit can likewise work like a business or association and it is significant that the "head grown-ups" of the family (e.g. you and your mate) give powerful initiative to direct different individuals inside the family and keep up with serene control of the family. Assuming you or your life partner come up short in your leadership obligations, issues will regularly create – regardless of whether between the youngsters and guardians, between kin or even between the actual mates, like when there is contest over administration.

3. Leadership in Everyday Life

In any event, when you are not officially dealing with a gathering of individuals, there are still circumstances where leadership can assume a significant part. Your regular connections –, for example, with your bank director, with exchanges individuals, with administration staff – can be improved on the off chance that you show leadership abilities that empower you to "assume responsibility" and energize a positive result according to your perspective, while as yet keeping up with great associations with the other party.

Tips and Techniques to improve Leadership Skills

1. Continuous learning is the best way to become an effective leader
2. Take actions and evaluate at every stage
3. Nurture good habits which inspire your actions
4. Listen to motivational talks
5. Set short term and long term goals and help your subordinates to set goals
6. Know your strengths and weaknesses
7. Take bigger and better decisions based on your risk appetite
8. Be committed to your thoughts and actions
9. Maintain transparency in your behavior
10. Always be creative and problem solver at work

5. Creativity

Creativity refers to the wonder whereby something new is made which has some sort of abstract worth. It is additionally the subjective stimulus behind some random demonstration of creation, and it is by and large apparent to be related with insight and cognizance.

Organizations today work in an exceptionally aggressive, worldwide climate, making creativity urgent. Creativity is the thing that energizes enormous thoughts, challenges workers' perspective, and makes the way for new business openings. "Inventiveness" and "advancement" are frequently utilized reciprocally consequently, yet are two separate ideas.

Creativity in business is a significant initial step that should be focused on by senior administration. A review by IBM of in excess of 1,500 CEOs shows agreement: Creativity was positioned as the main factor for future business achievement—above administration discipline, respectability, and even vision.

Following are the Benefits of becoming Creative:

1. Joy

Creativity brings gigantic delight! Evidently, the Master loves and enjoys gigantic making. The magnificence and quality of His creation is surrounding us, and He makes new life every single day. So when you make something delightful out of the humblest of materials, you can participate shortly of His bliss in doing as such.

2. Self-Expression

Creativity permits you the opportunity of self-articulation. There's a profound feeling of fulfillment that comes from making something with your own hands. Very much like the proverb 31 lady who did absolutely everything, we can feel a feeling of achievement and maybe recognize a tiny bit with her when we make things for our home and family.

3. Fulfillment

By permitting the creativity within you to stream out, you will be more satisfied. At the point when you have a profound feeling of satisfaction, you are better ready to meet the numerous necessities of your family and others around you. You are a super charged person forever to face the challenges.

4. Authenticity

At the point when you make, you put something of yourself into the work. It reflects you – your masterfulness, your expertise and your capacity. Regardless of whether you were to duplicate another person, your piece would in any case be a bit unique – particularly yours. The more you make, the more you find your preferences. You understand your longings all the more completely, and start to foster your own thoughts, style and method. Your work reflects who you truly are.

5. Sense of Balance

We realize that our spirits need time in the Expression of God and association with the Master in petition. Furthermore, we realize that our bodies need good food and legitimate exercise. However, our spirits – our brains, keenness, innovative focus – additionally need appropriate consideration. By giving yourself a source for innovativeness, you permit your spirit opportunity to develop and take off. Taking part in innovativeness “fills your cup” and carries a feeling of equilibrium to your entire being.

Tips and Techniques to improve Creativity

1. Do brainstorming for better creativity
2. Develop new ideas and execute with certain steps
3. Keep a creativity journal to note down your thoughts
4. Use Six thinking hats techniques for problem solving and creativity
5. Develop growth mindset and assertive attitude
6. Use different prospective and use case study methods to brainstorm
7. Create friendly environment to boost creativity
8. Use affirmations and mediation techniques to boost creativity
9. Take a break to relax your mind and body
10. Always be a visionary

6. Team building skills

Powerful teamwork has become an essential to progress for most associations today. As the universe of business turns out to be solidly serious, organizations are taking up all potential means to guarantee that they stay cutthroat in the business. As earlier referenced, teamwork is one of the systems that associations are carrying out today with respect to enduring the cruel economic situations.

Benefits of becoming a Team Player are:

1. It boosts productivity

First of all, working inside a group considers the responsibility to be shared similarly among individuals and dispersed by every part's abilities and qualities. Alex Azoury, originator and President of Home Grounds, takes note of that this can essentially affect a group's productivity: 'everybody has liability regarding finishing their piece of the bigger responsibility. As it were, this eliminates overpower by permitting a colleague to focus exclusively on delivering one thing on schedule and to an elevated requirement.'

2. It encourages innovation

Two heads are better than one, and this is especially true in the workplace. Groups are better ready to deliver more imaginative, inventive and viable answers for issues than somebody working alone. In fact, it is proven that variety assumes an essential part in critical thinking: 'When you put a lot of assorted individuals together to tackle an issue, they will recommend endlessly various arrangements. These conceptualizing and imagination meetings lead to preferred thoughts and arrangements over would be accomplished by somebody working alone.'

3. It improves morale

At the point when the responsibility is shared and individuals from a group team up, they can feel a more prominent feeling of achievement when they complete an assignment and arrive at an objective that they would not have had the option to accomplish had they been working alone. This, joined with a feeling of having a place, appreciation and acknowledgment, can definitely further develop representative confidence and morale.

Tips and Techniques to improve Team building Skills

1. Establish good relations with your co workers
2. Use the power of appreciation and acknowledgement
3. Use courtesy words for your employees
4. Always be a good listener
5. Demonstrate assertive communication
6. Build Rapport with people in the organization
7. Motivate employees and sub ordinates to create good and healthy relationship
8. Show empathy whenever required
9. Be a problem solver for your team
10. Create trust in the team

7. Motivational skills

Employee motivation is characterized as the degree of energy, responsibility, diligence and innovativeness that an organization's laborers bring to their positions. It's a given that higher employee motivation prompts better commitment and usefulness. Obviously, employee motivation has become one of the first concerns for most organizations.

Benefits of Motivational skills are:

1. Handle uncertainty better

Because motivated employees are much more engaged, focused, they are also more self-confident at workplace. It helps the employee to handle difficult situations and create win-win situation.

2. Better problem-solvers

Problem solving skills are something most employers look for in their employees. If you have employees who are motivated, then they come up with lots of ideas, and they become good problem solvers for the employer. Problem solving is considered as one of the best skills which can be adopted with certain techniques and strategies.

3. More innovative and creative

When employees are motivated and engaged, they become more creative in their sector or industry and they can think and put innovative ideas in the project management that could help optimize business performance.

4. Proactive

Motivated employees proactively look for new solutions and think and act before the problem arises. This helps to eliminate complex problems and helps to achieve goals. They don't wait for feedback and they often evaluate their own work.

Tips and techniques to improve Motivational Skills

1. Improve corporate and team culture
2. Create friendly environment to boost motivation
3. Always be transparent and specific with your communication
4. Encourage your friends, and employees to take actions
5. Talk good and positive about team, people and life

6. Always be grateful about what you have and express gratitude towards others
7. Set personal and professional goals which can motivate you to create sense of achievement.
8. Celebrate small wins and give award and rewards for the work accomplished
9. Find a space to express yourself
10. Follow hobby where you can spend quality time

8. Attitude

(www.bluediamondgallery.com)

Attitude is defined as a pretty much stable arrangement of inclinations of assessment, interest or reason including hope of a specific sort of involvement and availability with a proper reaction. Perspectives are otherwise called "frames of reference ". They give the foundation against which realities and occasions are seen.

Benefits of positive Attitude in life are as follows:

1. Better heart health

Our positive or negative considerations and perspectives can affect our hearts. One examination looked to recognize the potential advantages of an uplifting outlook in patients determined to have heart illnesses. The outcomes took a gander at patients who presented positive builds. The study found they experienced improved heart health. They also benefited from reduced rates of hospitalization and even improved mortality. We can note that the major construct established and used in this study was optimism.

2. Overcoming obstacles becomes easier

Authors, social business visionaries, and others who seek after their fantasies notwithstanding impediments are hailed for having coarseness. In any case, coarseness doesn't come from goal. It comes from an uplifting outlook and responsibility. You have more shots at accomplishing your objectives on the off chance that you can move toward negative circumstances without losing your energy.

3. Better recovery process

Recuperation cycles, for example, physiotherapy or mental treatment require a ton of responsibility and difficult work. Truth be told, specialists like to set up their customer's flexibility to recognize their qualities and use them better.

The attitude of any patient towards their recovery process is one of the strengths evaluated by therapists. Whether you're trying to regain use of your limbs or recover from mental trauma, your therapist knows one thing. Maintaining a positive attitude will help the progress of your therapy.

Tips and Techniques to improve Attitude

1. Change your approach and prospective towards things
2. Choose your friends and network wisely
3. Count your blessings
4. Help others and show respect towards people
5. Have clarity of thoughts
6. Use setbacks as an opportunity
7. Install good habits and practice everyday
8. Set goals and work till you achieve
9. Live in the present moment
10. Always learn new things and master your skills

9. Critical Thinking

(www.talentlens.in)

Critical thinking refers to the capacity to examine data impartially and make a contemplated judgment. It includes the assessment of sources, like information, realities, detectable wonders, and exploration discoveries.

Good critical thinkers can draw reasonable conclusions from a set of information, and discriminate between useful and less useful details to solve problems or make decisions.

Benefits of Critical Thinking are as follows:

1. It Encourages Curiosity

Curiosity exists to help us acquire a more profound comprehension of the world encompassing us as well as the things that matter inside our experience of that world. This stretches out to the themes we instruct in school, and furthermore the ones that we find pertinent in our day to day lives.

2. It Enhances Creativity

There's no question and doubt that effective critical thinkers are also largely creative thinkers which helps them to think and process data better. Creativity has unquestionably defined itself as a requisite skill for having in the collaborative modern workforce.

3. It Fosters Independence

At the point when we think critically, we think in a self-coordinated way. Our reasoning and acting is focused and consequently turns into a self-remedying outlook. It additionally implies that such solid proactive reasoning capacities become natural as we keep on creating them through learning and experience.

Tips and Techniques to improve Critical Thinking Skills

1. Improve your observation skills and work on attention to details
2. Develop your foresight for a better vision
3. Take massive decisions based on the facts and figures
4. Improve your knowledge, skills and abilities
5. Practice active listening and ask appropriate questions
6. Participate in brain storming activities for accurate results and use creativity and innovation
7. Use techniques such as conceptualizing, analyzing, and synthesizing to work on data and information

8. Use your past experiences to become a good decision maker
9. Explore creativity and innovation techniques
10. Challenge yourself everyday in the process of critical thinking

10. Problem Solving skills

When employers talk about problem-solving skills, they are frequently alluding to the capacity to deal with troublesome or unforeseen circumstances in the work environment just as perplexing business challenges. Organizations depend on individuals who can evaluate the two sorts of circumstances and serenely recognize arrangements. Problem-solving skills are attributes that empower you to do that. While critical thinking abilities are esteemed by businesses, they are likewise profoundly helpful in different everyday issues like relationship building and everyday dynamic.

Benefits of problem Solving are as follows:

1. Increase Brainstorming ability

Once you develop problem solving ability, it helps you to brainstorm and find different alternatives and solutions of the problem. This helps the organization or higher authority to take decision in the process of project management to produce tangible results.

2. Increase trust and credibility

Once you develop and master your problem solving ability, it helps you to develop trust in the team and improves your credibility also it helps you to put your ideas and processes effectively and efficiently. This helps you to develop the growth patterns in your professional life and you can climb the ladder of success.

3. Self-Development

Problem solving helps you to take better decisions and you can generate massive actions which lead to different results every time. In the organization it is very important to upgrade and develop yourself. Your problem solving skills help you to develop your skills and because you start looking at any problem as an opportunity and not as a problem. This helps you to change your outlook towards any situation and change the perspective towards situation.

Tips and Techniques to improve Problem Solving Skills

1. Identify the problem
2. Gather as much as information about the problem
3. Analyze the problem
4. Find out the best possible solution
5. Evaluate and select the best option
6. Check your results at every step
7. Seek help for better productivity and decision making
8. Brainstorm for creative strategies
9. Overcome short term crises and convert problems into opportunities
10. Always be research oriented, simplify things and remain calm in all situations

11. Analytical skills

Analytical skills are the traits and abilities that allow you to observe research and interpret a subject in order to develop complex ideas and solutions. Analytical skills can be considered as one of the top most skills. You can apply analytical thinking in just about every situation, such as developing or improving programs or products, relational issues, processes, identifying audience and client needs and more.

Benefits of Analytical Skills are as follows:

1. Recognize Problems

It's not enough just to recognize a problem or analyze the problem; you need to pinpoint a reason for the problem and process it to generate better results. Analytical skills help you to make good judgment about the challenges and provide solutions.

2. Human Resource Management

By using analytical skills, a manager or team leader can assess each individuals' strengths and weaknesses and therefore it is easy to allocate tasks according to skill sets. It is also helpful in pointing out areas where additional or remedial training is needed.

3. Project Planning

Analytical skills allow us to break down a large project into its individual parts and complete any task on time. This helps to set timeline for each and every task. This reduces the stress and creates a win- win situation in the team.

Tips and Techniques to improve Analytical Skills

1. Attempt for reading, continuous learning and participating in different activities
2. Boost your cognitive abilities
3. Participate in various club activities and take actions
4. Make calculations and prepare graphs, charts and play with numbers
5. Pay attention to details and be a good observer
6. Participate in analysis based projects
7. Practice problem solving and situational based case studies
8. Try to have a bigger picture
9. Brain storm on every problem and gather data to analyze
10. Follow FOCUS model to resolve any problem

12. Emotional Intelligence

Emotional intelligence refers to the capacity to distinguish and deal with one's own feelings, just as the feelings of others. Enthusiastic insight is by and large said to incorporate a couple of abilities: to be specific passionate mindfulness, or the capacity to distinguish and name one's own feelings; the capacity to bridle those feelings and apply them to assignments like reasoning and critical thinking; and the capacity to oversee feelings, which incorporates both directing one's own feelings when fundamental and helping other people to do likewise.

Benefits of Emotional Intelligence

1. Self-awareness

This is the capacity to name, perceive, and comprehend your own feelings. Mindfulness expects us to check out our sentiments and not keep away from our negative feelings like tension, dread and misery. Recognizing our own emotional states and how they affect our thoughts, behaviors, and decisions is the key to cultivating self-awareness.

2. Empathy

When we empathize with others, we develop deeper, more intimate relationships. Empathy is important in personal and professional life or we can say that it is one of the important skills on the list. Empathy is the ability to recognize how and why people think, feel and behave. Empathy allows us to anticipate how our actions and behaviors influence other people as well as our own. Developing empathy skills enhances our knowledge, skills, experiences, relationships, and general understanding of ourselves.

3. Manage and lead Change

People with high levels of emotional intelligence are also able to adapt to change and can lead the change easily. Change is difficult for everyone at first, but individuals with high EQ are better able to manage the change. With any significant change, it is natural to feel anxious, helpless, or fearful. It is a human behavior that whenever any change comes across, we tend to think about the consequences of the change. Emotionally intelligent individuals are inherently adaptable. It is one of the important skills which should be nurtured.

Tips and Techniques to improve Emotional Intelligence

1. Pay attention to details and evaluate yourself
2. Always be responsible for your own feelings, emotions and behavior
3. Acknowledge your emotional triggers
4. Positive thinking and lifelong learning are the tools to manage your emotions

5. Change the prospective by following 90 -10 principle
6. Find something positive about every situation
7. Try physical relaxation techniques
8. Visualize yourself and practice meditation tools for success
9. Record your thoughts whenever required
10. Avoid gossips and don't surround yourself with worry and anxiety

13. Managing Change

Change management is a structured and careful approach which ensures that changes are carefully observed, smoothly implemented and without much hurdle there are lasting benefits to those changes. Change management focuses on how individuals and teams transition to the new situation.

Benefits of managing the Change are as follows:

1. Mindset & Attitudes

Our minds can be an unruly place. The acceptance of change is beneficial and important to keep our mind stable. The mind develops good belief systems and positive attitudes. You become the master of your mind and if the mind is stable and it helps you and can you believe about the results? The results are always magical.

2. Improve Morale

Feeling detached from change can leave you dejected. When change is properly planned, it gives you sense of satisfaction and better results. Managing Change ensure employees are united, motivated, and can contribute valuable input that shapes the direction of change. When everyone knows they'll benefit from change, they'll be motivated at work and work towards the success of the organization.

3. Eliminate Confusion

Change can cause chaos and conflict if it isn't communicated properly. When confusion spreads through your organization or in the team, doubt can make it difficult for staff to embrace change. By taking time to outline every stage of the change process, you can effectively manage your change-related task. Once everyone in the team knows their role with clarity the entire team works with conviction and achieves desired results.

Tips and Techniques to improve Managing Change

1. Understand the change and look at the impact on business goals
2. Develop a communication strategy in advance so that it will reach to everybody in the system
3. Create a support system for any change that comes in the process
4. Measure the consequence of the changes and how effectively it is implemented?
5. Have a concrete plan once you define the change
6. Document the challenges which comes in the change process
7. Follow the roadmap in case of more challenges
8. Allow time to accept the change and provide training whenever required
9. Build different organizational strategies to implement every step
10. Demonstrate strong leadership in the business domain

14. Goal setting

Setting goals is the process of deciding what you want and expect to achieve in a defined timeline. Goal setting starts with certain steps and making progress in our personal and professional life.

Goal setting gives direction to the employees' and keeps them motivated with a purpose.

Benefits of Goal Setting are as follows:

1. Goals help you prioritize

When you set goals and focus on them, you give the first priority to all important tasks which take you there.

You may have lots of great ideas, you become the most creative person and this helps you to convert your dream into goal, the moment you put a date to your goal. It helps you focus and prioritize your time instead of spreading it around to everything.

2. Goals make you responsible for your own life

When you set goals, you are saying “This is what I want to achieve and accomplish. This is what I’m going to do.”

You aren’t relying on fate or magic. You are even not thinking or waiting someone else to do something for you.

You are stating what you want and doing something about it. You are taking responsibility for yourself and I am sure that you take the 100% responsibilities of your life.

3. Goals help you make better decisions

When you set and have goals, whether personally or in a business, you know what is important because you have converted your dreams into plans. When you know what is important, you then can make better decisions for your career or profession or even business.

Andrew Carnegie said that “If you want to be happy, set a goal that commands your thoughts, liberates your energy and inspires your hopes.”

Tips and Techniques to improve Goal Setting

1. Use SMART technique to set goals in personal and professional life
2. Always Be accountable for your actions and results
3. Monitor your progress at every stage and every step you take
4. Set goals for all dimensions of life
5. Divide your goals in as small as you can which will help you to plan and take action

6. Seek Help and hire a mentor or expert in that domain
7. Celebrate success after achieving the goal and get on the track
8. Work on your knowledge, skills and attitude to achieve every goal
9. Consistency and patience are the pillars to achieve goals
10. Motivate yourself to achieve bigger and noble goals

15. Time Management skills

Using time effectively is the capacity to plan and control how somebody goes through the hours in a day to viably achieve their objectives.

Compelling using time effectively permits us to take advantage of our day, achieving assignments all the more rapidly and focusing on those that will have the most effect.

Different people need different time management strategies. There are 23 techniques of managing the time. If you're a graduate student, you may choose to manage your time in a different way than someone who is a working mother. If you're a visual person, you may prefer a color-coded calendar over a written list.

Benefits of Time Management are as follows:

1. Feel accomplished

How many times have you spent your whole day being "busy and occupied"? Effective time management will put you in the comfort zone because you have followed all the strategies and techniques which will help you complete all important tasks and feel accomplished

When you follow the principles of effective time management, even if your day gets crazy, you still can finish your day feeling accomplished for what you have done.

2. Stand out

Managing time can also help you stand out. Employer will always appreciate you if you manage the task by managing the time.

Many people waste so much time and are ineffective in how they go about their day. There are many time wasters available which will drag your time and you start procrastinating your goals. When you manage your time well, you accomplish more, and all leaders stand out because they believe that we can manage our life by managing the time.

3. More opportunities

If you are overwhelmed and stressed, when and how will you be able to take advantage of opportunities that come your way?

By managing your time well, you can not only spot the opportunities that come your way better, but also have the time and focus to take advantage of them as well.

Tips and Techniques to improve Time Management

1. Use planners to utilize the time wisely
2. Use technology to monitor the time and record it
3. Calculate your time wasters and always be on track
4. Learn the art of delegation and seek help whenever required
5. Stop procrastination and motivate yourself to manage time
6. Learn to become proactive and learn the art of multitasking
7. Give priority to important tasks which adds more value in personal and professional life
8. Keep journal to record your time, goals, dreams, and accomplishments
9. Practice the 20% effort / 80% results principle, to achieve maximum results with minimum effort.
10. Practice effective planning, by developing clear objectives, clearly defining tasks

Summary

1. What are the advantages of soft skills?
2. Write action plan for each of the technique covered in the topic.

How to create an impressive Resume?

7

RESUME WRITING IS NOT AS DIFFICULT AS IT IS SAID
ON THE INTERNET

Resume is that document which can reflect knowledge, skills and abilities and create your own success story. This is the document which can display your education, experience, skills and demonstrates that you are the right candidate for the employment.

Purpose of your resume

No matter what point of your career you're in, whether you are an engineer or MBA student, or fresher, everyone talks about your resume when applying for a new job. Whether you're just starting out or transitioning into a new field, it's a resume, resume, resume. While we hear resumes are important for getting a job – is that really their purpose? If you've landed here, chances are you're either writing your first resume or, like me, you stopped for a minute to think: wait, why am I doing this?

Below, discover the personal, business, and true purpose of a resume.

1. Resume tells your story
2. Resume facilitate Self – disclosure
3. Resume acts as a representation of your knowledge, skills and abilities
4. Resume gives a reference point for future applications
5. Resume gives depiction of your career

Benefits of Resume writing

Having a great presentation of your credentials is still one of the best and most effective methods, whether that presentation is a profile on a networking site, a resume, a CV, or an executive bio. Employers continue to look at written sources for candidate information.

Following are the benefits of writing a good resume.

- Helps you to plan and organize your thoughts about your skills and experience
- Motivates you to closely examine your career goals
- It prepares you for interviewing and other verbal presentations about yourself

- It reestablishes your self-appreciation character and self-value
- It assists you in talking about yourself and your achievements in a confident and positive manner

Now I have a question for you. How do you differentiate bio data, resume and CV?

If you are confused, here is the answer.

Bio data consists of the information about the individual and his attributes, hobbies, interests, along with educational experience and experience.

Resume is a one or two page summary of your skills, education and experience.

CV is a longer and more detailed synopsis generally over a couple of pages long.

Difference between Bio data, CV, Resume.

Difference between Bio Data, Resume and CV
Bio-Data: Bio-Data consists the information about the individual and his attributes, hobbies, interests along with educational qualification to describe the person the best.
Resume: A resume is a one or two page "summary" of your skills, experience and education. Generally no more longer than a page or two. It indicates candidate's professional qualification.
CV: A Curriculum Vitae is a longer and more detailed synopsis. Generally over a couple of pages long. It indicates candidate's professional experience.

Let us understand these words in a better way.

Resume is a French word derived from to 'resumer' which means 'To summarize.

Curriculum Vitae or "CV "is a Latin word and means the course of (one's) life. It is a brief factual outline of your qualifications, education and working experience intended to tell a prospective employer what you are about.

So if you are a fresher, you make sure that you are preparing your Resume.

CEO of the companies, Scientists, doctors, board of directors or I will say a person having more than 15 years of experience can write CV in a better way.

Now you have come to know that you are going to make a resume first so in this segment we will talk about each and every section of resume.

1. Career objective
2. Educational qualification
3. SIP (Summer Internship Program)
4. Project undertaken
5. Certification
6. Key skills
7. Achievements
8. Hobbies
9. Personal details

1. Career Objective:

To increase the chances of getting an interview and to get highlighted by the recruitment consultants, you'll need a compelling resume that includes a focused career objective. To make sure that your resume gets the attention, be sure to take efforts on writing a clear, actionable career objective that concisely describes your skills and professional goals.

How to create a career objective?

You can follow these steps to create an effective career objective:

1. Make it concise and complete
2. Customize it for each position and industry
3. Include your industry and sector
4. Explain your value
5. Mention about short term and long term goals

Examples of career Objective

- To work in an environment that encourages innovation and provides challenges to bring out the best in me.
- To obtain a position in which I can develop new skills and utilize my existing skills while contributing to the success of the Firm.
- Aspire to join a respectable Firm where I can fully utilize my Talents, Knowledge and Proficiency for the benefit of the Firm.
- Looking for opportunities that will help me in finding my own true potential as well as opportunities that will challenge me. I wish to engage with roles that will help me grow professionally while I contribute to the growth of the company.

- Looking for an entry-level position in a dynamic organization that will provide me with a platform to showcase my skill set while allowing scope for learning. I wish to take up challenges that will help me develop new skills while I work towards advancing the company's goals.
- To establish and prove my worth to the company and show the management skills that I have developed as an individual throughout my experience as a student of management studies.
- Motivated, results-oriented and hardworking individual looking for a managerial position at your esteemed firm, where I can put to use my analytical and problem-solving approach for tackling the daily challenges of the job while adding value to the company and its goals.
- A management student who possesses good interpersonal communication skills and wishes to achieve a challenging position in your dynamic organization so as to contribute to the organization's growth with my skill set.
- To establish a career as an Executive in a dynamic and progressive organization where my skills can contribute to the company's goals and achievements and also aid my own personal and professional goal.
- To be associated with a growth-oriented company where my managerial and leadership skills can help in the development of the company while concurrently helping me to further my professional interests in a stimulating environment.

- I wish to pursue a challenging job opportunity in a reputed firm that can accommodate my competence, experiences and goals while providing me with the scope to use my strengths in the best way possible for the company's growth.
- To pursue a career in a competitive environment where I am constantly pushed to use my strengths and skills in an innovative manner to ensure that the integrity of the organization is enhanced, and I can add value to the company.
- Seeking a challenging and innovative position in a firm that will maximize the opportunities for me to implement my skill set and knowledge as well as use my capabilities in the best way possible so that I am able to enrich my skills and aid the development of the firm I work with.
- To excel in an organization that will provide me with unique opportunities for professional growth and help me optimize and multiply my experience and exposure as well as multiply my skill set.
- To work in a healthy, innovative and challenging environment extracting the best out of me, which is conducive to learn and grow at professional as well as personal levels thereby directing my future endeavors as an asset to the organization.

Marketing

- A dedicated learner and a Management Scholar in Marketing waiting for an opportunity to contribute towards the growth / making of an organization as a Marketing Lead by devising unique strategies and maximizing the yearly profit by aligning the marketing strategy with the goals of the organization.
- A Management Graduate who is success-driven, looking for the role of a Marketing Manager in an organization to help them create effective campaigns that meet the organizational targets.
- To acquire a Marketing role in your Company. I am proficient with a versatile set of skills in handling marketing, management and sales in order to help the company in accentuating its revenue and profit margins.
- I am an enthusiastic and hardworking individual with a Management qualification in Marketing, seeking an entry-level sales position in your Company. Ready to utilize presentation, communication and negotiation skills to help the organization achieves its goals.

Finance

- To secure the job in the Finance sector in your organization which could help me learn new skills and deliver my potential of financial analysis and strategic implementation of the new approach towards the development of the company.

- To secure an entry level position in a progressive organization that provides ample opportunities to develop and use my skills for growth in the finance vertical.
- An MBA graduate in Finance, looking for entry-level opportunity at an esteemed organization to utilize my knowledge and skills and gain professional experience.
- Very detail-oriented and hard-working individual seeking opportunities in Finance with a year of work experience and an MBA in Financial Management.
- Self-motivated individual seeking an entry-level opportunity in Finance at a renowned organization. Possessing analytical and quantitative skills with an MBA in Finance and strong ability to lead financial management, reporting and analysis.

HR

- Searching for opportunities in Human Resources, to contribute to the overall business strategy of the organization by creating the best possible talent management and retention program that aligns with the organizational ideals and beliefs.
- I would like to work in an Organization wherein my understanding of Human Resources will help me harness their Skills to bring out the best in them.
- To secure the post of "HR Executive" in your company, where I can use my inter-personal skills while learning and contributing for the growth of the organization.

- To secure an entry level position in the human resources industry where I can effectively use my interpersonal and communication skills for organization growth.

Operations

- Seeking a position in an organization wherein I can put my interests in Operations Excellence and Supply Chain Management to the profitable use of the Company.
- MBA graduate in Operations Management looking for a suitable opportunity at a reputed organization.
- Self-motivated professional with knowledge of Supply Chain Management, Logistics, and Operations and excellent interpersonal, communication and problem-solving skills.
- Seeking the opportunity of Assistant Manager Operations with proficiency in Logistics and Supply Chain Management and brilliant organizational and management skills.

Engineering

- "Looking for a challenging role in a reputed company to utilize my engineering skills that can contribute to the company's growth as well as enhance my knowledge by exploring new things."
- "Highly motivated and dedicated individual with certified engineering skills, management skills and a solid technical background looking to obtain the position of junior engineer with your company."

- “An engineer with specialization in web development, knowledge of HTML, JAVA and one year of working experience in developing and managing the web development of xxx company. I am looking forward to leadership opportunities as well as managing the different technologies for your reputed organization.”

Pharmacy

- Pharmacy graduate seeks to apply knowledge of medication to improve patient health as a pharmacist at ABC pharmacy.
- Looking to apply 5 years of experience advising physicians and monitoring supplies as a pharmacist at ABC hospital.
- Self-motivated professional with 12 years of experience pursuing a pharmacist position at ABC pharmacy that will utilize sales and leadership skills.
- Seeking a pharmacist position at ABC pharmacy that requires strong customer service and counseling skills in a high-volume setting.
- Looking to obtain employment as a pharmacist at ABC pharmacy and use 15 years of experience to improve efficiency and deliver exceptional care.

(Disclaimer: The author has taken career objectives from different sources only for examples and doesn't take the credit of this work)

2. Educational qualification

The education section of your resume is where the recruiter would like to see what schools you attended, degrees you earned, the skills and the certification you possess, etc. You can put your educational column mentioned below. List your educational qualification in reverse chronological order.

EXAM	COLLEGE/SCHOOL	YEAR	Percentage (%)

3. SIP (Summer Internship Program)

Summer placement (summer internship program, i.e., now popularly known as SIP), is an important part of the academic curriculum of graduation. For the successful completion of the graduation program, the students are required to complete the SIP. In MBA SIP is normally done after completion of the 1st year of the program, i.e., after the 2nd semester and before the commencement of the second year of the program, the students are required to work with an organization for hands-on experience.

SIP aims at widening the student's perspective by providing exposure to real-life Organizational and environmental situations. This will enable the students to explore an industry/organization, build a relationship with a prospective employer, or simply hone their skills in a familiar field. SIP also provides invaluable knowledge and networking experience to the students.

SIP targets enlarging the understudy's viewpoint by giving exposure to real-life Organizational and environmental situations. This will empower the students to investigate an industry/association, assemble a relationship with an imminent boss, or sharpen their abilities in a recognizable field.

For BA/BCOM/BBA/MBA/ENGG students it is the golden opportunity to demonstrate your work through SIP and reflect on your knowledge, skills and abilities.

After completion of SIP, a student should be able to talk about the following aspects.

1. Introduction of SIP
2. Literature Review
3. Details about the study
4. Methods/methodology adopted for the study
5. Analysis
6. Contribution and learning from the project
7. Acknowledgements:
8. Findings and conclusion
9. Presentation of the report

In Resume, you can mention your SIP details in the following format:

Name of the company

Project title

Duration

Key responsibilities

4. Project undertaken:

What is a project? It's a transitory undertaking embraced to make a unique product, service, or result.

Each project has a purpose to achieve with an action plan, limited timeline with some different experience to gain. Projects are not open-finished; they start at an unmistakable point on schedule, and they at last reach a reasonable and complete determination at a later, pre-defined achievement date.

Why Project Highlights are Important

Describing projects in your resume offers several distinct advantages:

1. It establishes you as a successful professional in your field.
2. It demonstrates a proven track record of success.
3. It allows potential employers to mentally insert you into a position that requires a similar skill set.
4. It demonstrates leadership skills and initiative.

So it is very important to mention your project details in the following format

Project title

Name of the company

Duration

Key responsibilities

5. Certifications

Why are certifications important?

Certification tells employers and your professional peers that you're well-qualified in your selected industry or domain and you can take some responsibilities to generate results for the employer. It can help you find a good job, uplift your career and add stability to your long-term employment prospects.

Let us look at some benefits of getting certification:

- a. Gain a Competitive Advantage
- b. Increase Efficiency
- c. Increase Earning Potential
- d. Expand Knowledge and Skills
- e. Build Professional Credibility

6. Key skills

Key skills play an important role in your career. Your skills section includes your abilities related to the job you're applying for. You should include both "hard skills" – specific, quantifiable attributions such as proficiency in a foreign language, typing speed, or computer software knowledge or the technical language – and "soft skills" like adaptability, leadership, and time management.

It is strongly recommended that you only can put the skills which you can demonstrate and prove that you deserve to talk about.

Look at some of the common soft skills which you can add in your resume

These are the key soft skills for a resume:

Creativity
Interpersonal Communication
Critical Thinking
Problem Solving
Public Speaking
Customer Service
Teamwork
Communication Collaboration Accounting

Active Listening
Adaptability
Negotiation
Conflict Resolution
Decision-making
Empathy
Customer Service
Decision Making
Management
Leadership

You can add some technical skill sets also in the resume which are as follows:

Applications
Certifications
Coding
Computing Configuration
Debugging
Design Development
Hardware
HTML
Implementation Infrastructure

Languages Maintenance
Network Architecture
Network Security
Networking
New Technologies
Operating Systems
Programming Restoration Security
Servers
Software

Solution Delivery
Storage Structures
Systems Analysis Technology

Testing
Tools Training
Troubleshooting
Usability

7. Achievements

Your resume should highlight your skills, education and professional experiences along with the achievements.

Listing achievements on your resume can help employers better understand your strengths and talents.

Professional and educational accomplishments can help employers understand your current skills and value as an employee, while some personal achievements and accomplishments can show how you dedicate yourself towards completing goals.

Your achievements can be as follows

1. Sports related achievements
2. Education related achievements
3. Professional achievements
4. Social Achievements

8. Hobbies

When you include your hobbies on your resume, they prove your personality to shine through, and it shows that apart from your career how good and creative you are as a person, this can be a powerful tool.

If you are looking for examples of hobbies, here you can find a list of hobbies for resumes: the 10 popular hobbies – activities & interests:

1. Sports – Walking, Exercise, Running, Tennis, Bicycling, Swimming, Skiing, Golf, Team Sports etc.
2. Music – Playing, Listening
3. Traveling, Fishing, Hunting
4. Socializing – Community Work, Church Activities, Volunteer Work
5. Painting
6. Dancing
7. Reading, Writing
8. Gardening
9. Animal Care

9. Personal details

Listing different types of personal contact information clearly on the resume helps hiring managers contact you via their preferred method.

Personal contact information on resume headers usually includes

1. Full name
2. Mailing address
3. Phone number
4. Email address
5. Website
6. LinkedIn profile
7. Passport number

Please understand that personal details format can be changed as per the need and your format of the resume.

Resume for experienced candidate

After checking a resume format and sequence of a fresher, it is an equally important to check where to showcase experience if you have any.

Every candidate can put experience after career objective in the following format.

Organization

Duration

Designation

Key responsibilities

Powerful Key Words

When writing a resume, it's important to avoid weak and passive verbs, stay away from business jargon or clichés, and watch out for words and phrases. These faulty word choices can undermine the strength and effectiveness of your resume. Instead, make a point of using powerful action verbs and avoid overusing the same verbs (such as "assisted," "completed" and "utilized").

Following are the powerful words used to make an impressive Resume.

A:

Accelerated, accomplished, achieved, addressed, administered, advised, allocated, answered, appeared, applied, appointed, appraised, approved, arranged, assessed, assigned, assisted, assumed, assured, audited, awarded.

B:

Bought, briefed, broadened, brought, budgeted, and built.

C:

Cataloged, caused, changed, chaired, clarified, classified, closed, collected, combined, commented, communicated, compared, compiled, completed, computed, conceived, concluded, conducted, conceptualized, considered, consolidated, constructed, consulted, continued, contracted, controlled, converted, coordinated, corrected, counseled, counted, created.

D:

Dealt, decided, defined, delegated, delivered, demonstrated, described, designed, determined, developed, devised, diagnosed, directed, discussed, distributed, documented, doubled, drafted.

E:

Earned, edited, effected, eliminated, endorsed, enlarged, enlisted, ensured, entered, established, evaluated, examined, executed, expanded, expedited, experienced, experimented, explained, explored, expressed, extended.

F:

Filed, filled, financed, focused, forecast, formulated, founded.

G:

Gathered, generated, graded, granted, guided.

H:

Halved, handled, and helped.

I:

Identified, implemented, improved, incorporated, increased, indexed, initiated, influenced, innovated, inspected, installed, instituted, instructed, insured, interpreted, interviewed, introduced, invented, invested, investigated, involved, issued.

J:

Joined

K:

Kept

L:

Launched, learned, leased, lectured, led, licensed, listed, logged.

M:

Made, maintained, managed, matched, measured, mediated, modified, monitored, motivated, and moved.

N:

Named, navigated, and negotiated.

O:

Observed, opened, operated, ordered, organized, and oversaw.

P:

Participated, perceived, performed, persuaded, planned, prepared, presented, processed, procured, programmed, prohibited, projected, promoted, proposed, provided, published, purchased, pursued.

Q:

Qualified, questioned.

R:

Raised, ranked, rated, realized, received, recommended, reconciled, recorded, recruited, redesigned, reduced, regulated, rehabilitated, related, reorganized, repaired, replaced, replied, reported, represented, researched, resolved, responded, restored, revamped, reviewed, revise, rewarded.

S:

Saved, scheduled, selected, served, serviced, shared, showed, simplified, sold, solved, sorted, sought, sparked, specified, spoke, staffed, streamlined, strengthened, stressed, stretched, structured, studied, submitted, substituted, succeeded, suggested, summarized, superseded, supervised, surveyed, systematized.

T:

Tackled, targeted, taught, terminated, tested, toured, traced, tracked, traded, trained, transferred, transcribed, transformed, translated, transported, traveled, treated, trimmed, tripled, turned, tutored.

U:

Umpired, uncovered, understood, unified, unraveled, updated, upgraded, utilized.

V:

Verbalized, verified, and visited.

W:

Waged, weighed, widened, worked.

More suggestions:

Ability, capable, capability, capacity, competence, competent, consistent, contributions, demonstrated, efficient, equipped, exceptional, expanding, experienced, outstanding, significant, substantially.

(www.workbloom.com)

Resume do's and don'ts

In this segment, we are going to discuss some do's and don'ts. You can keep all the pointers in mind to prepare an impressive resume. Let us check all the pointers one by one.

Do's

- Focus on accomplishments, skills and results
- State your summary, clearly and concisely
- Write in the active voice and avoid using I, me, my or we
- Keep it short
- Use short details, eliminating details and unnecessary words
- Use simple language
- Use strong action verbs and words
- Put strongest points first and prioritize bullets in order of importance
- Be consistent in all matters of style, punctuation, grammar and format.
- Use reverse chronological order in listing employers and educational degrees
- Be accurate with the data

Don'ts

- The word 'resume' at the top of the resume
- Do not include any misrepresentations or any statements that cannot be proven
- Do not use odd size or brightly colored paper
- Do not include personal data about health, height, weight
- Do not mention salary information
- Do not include details or anything not considered essential

- Do not over crowd the page
- Full address of the former employer
- Reasons for leaving the job
- References

After going through the resume format if you have any query or if you feel that we can help to prepare a customized resume, feel free to contact us on name of the company and contact number.

I wish you all the best for your resume building activity.

Summary

1. What are the Benefits of Resume writing?
2. What is the difference between Bio data/ Resume / CV?
3. What is the importance of powerful key words in resume?
4. What are the dos and don'ts of resumes?

Sample Resume format 1

Name:

Cell No:

Email id:

Photo

Career Objective

Work Experience

Organization:

Duration:

Designation:

Key responsibilities:

-
-
-

Educational Qualifications

[In order of latest to oldest]

Course with Specialization	Institute/ College	University/ Board	Year of passing	% / CGPA

Summer Internship Program Details

Company:

Project Title:

Duration:

Description:

-
-
-

Projects Undertaken

[Additional projects if any during graduation & post graduation]

Company:

Project Title:

Duration:

Description of the Project:

-
-
-

Certifications

[If any in the descending order latest to oldest]

-
-
-

Key Skills

[Mention personal and technical key skills]

-
-

Achievements

[If any during under-graduation, graduation, post-graduation adding value to CV/creating a good impression]

-
-
-

Hobbies

[Please write serious hobbies only]

-
-

Personal Details

Date of Birth:

Languages Known:

Permanent Address:

Sample Resume format 2

Name

Email Id

Contact number

Career Objective

Summary

-
-
-

Work experience (If applicable)

Organization:

Duration:

Designation:

Key responsibilities:

-
-
-

Educational Qualification:

- BE (Information Technology) from (college name and City) in (year) with (%).
- H.S.C from (college name and city) in (year) with (%).
- S.S.C from (School name and city) in (year) with (%).

Technical Skills

Programming Language :

Database :

Operating Systems :

Web technologies :

Project Undertaken:

Projects:

Project title:

Description:

Team Size:

Tech:

Role & Responsibility:

Seminars / Achievements:

-
-
-

Extra-Curricular Activity (Optional)

-
-
-

Hobbies / Interest (optional)

-
-
-

Personal Detail:

Date of Birth:

Address:

Passport no:

Pan Card:

Marital Status:

Language:

Declaration: I hereby declare that the above mentioned information is correct to the best of my knowledge.

Date

Name

Place

Group Discussion

Group discussion is framed by consolidating two distinct words, i.e. group, and discussion. Here group implies various individuals that are assembled and considered as a unit while the word 'discuss' has come from the Latin 'discutere', which intends to shake or strike. Hence 'discussion' alludes to inspect the theme completely to arrive at a resolution. On the whole, it is called Gathering conversation which implies the trading of thoughts by taking an interesting competitor on a particular subject or theme. The entire idea is to welcome on the whole a unit of individuals on a typical stage to share their thoughts.

Why GD is important?

1. It assesses whether a candidate is the right fit for the organization.
2. It helps assess how a participant performs under different situations in a group.
3. It assists with deciding how one conceptualizes the thoughts through the conversation.
4. It helps in investigating the applicant's disposition towards individual / individuals through one's communication and relational abilities, listening capacity, humility and resilience to others thoughts.
5. It helps in revealing insight into competitor's leadership and managerial skills, critical thinking inclination, innovative reasoning and information on different points.

In this segment, we are going to discuss ins and outs about GD and the parameters are as follows

- Importance of GD
- How many Personality traits the employer can gauge?
- Process of GD
- Types of GD's
- Types of candidates
- Types of topics
- Techniques of preparing and presenting in a GD
- How are you evaluated in GD?

- Dos and Don'ts
- Myths about group discussion

Let us study these parameters one by one.

Process of Group Discussion

1. 8-10 students are taken as a group, though in some cases, up to 20 people may be included in a group. The GD lasts for 10-15 minutes.
2. For a topic-based GD, 2-3 minutes of thinking time may be given; though the group is often told to start right away. For case studies, however, about 15 minutes is given.
3. Evaluation is done by experts, usually professors from B-School. These people are experts and observe all details, even if the GD is chaotic.
4. Candidates may be seated in a circle or in a rectangular arrangement. Seating arrangements may be prefixed.
5. Discussion may be stopped at the set time / even earlier and conclusion may be asked for. Sometimes summary is asked for at the end from each candidate.

How many Personality traits an employer can gauge?

Group discussion can be the golden opportunity for employer to judge a person by observing some important skills. Let us have a look at this.

Communication skills	Interpersonal skills
Leadership skills	Motivational skills
Team building skills	Analytical skills
Reasoning skills	Different thinking
Initiative	Assertiveness
Flexibility	Creativity

Types of group discussions

1. In this type, HR gives a topic to the group and gives 2 minutes to think and all participants have to take initiative and discuss their point of view. After 15 to 20 min the group discussion stops and HR declares the result. This is the common and famous way of conducting group discussion.

2. In this type, a task is given to the group to come up with a topic which the group can discuss and come on the conclusion. This round is tricky because the entire group has to be and work on a synchronized way

3. In this type, Evaluator assigns a person to initiate, and assigns a person to conclude and everyone get one min to talk.

4. In this type, the HR gives a topic but doesn't give much time and the participant has to contribute on the spot.

In all types of group discussion's one thing is clear that it is well structured way to select good employees from this round who can portray the right skills and can become the asset of the organization.

Types of candidates

Aggressive	Passive	Assertive
Mottos and Beliefs • Everyone should be like me • I am never wrong • I got rights but you don't	• Won't express feelings • Won't disagree • Others have more rights than I do	• Believes in self and others • I have rights as others have
Communication Skills • Closed mind • Poor listener • Will not accept other's views • Interrupts and Monopolizing	• Indirect expressions • Always agrees • Hesitant	• Effective; Active listener. • Sets limits for expectations • Expresses self honestly and as quickly as possible
Characteristics • Achieves goal but at the cost of others • Dominating and bullying • Patronizing condemning and sarcastic	• Apologetic, Self-conscious • Trusts others, but not self • Allows others take decisions for self • Doesn't get what he wants	• Non-judgmental. Confident • Open and flexible • Playful and sense of humor. Decisive and proactive

Behavior • Puts others down • Never thinks they would be right. Bossy • Know – it – all type	• Tries to sit on both sides of the fence • Asks permission unnecessarily • Let's others make choices, even for him. Difficulty in implementing plans	• Action with plans. • Actions have objectives • Realistic and fair • Consistent • Takes appropriate action without denying others
Non-verbal Cues • Points fingers. Shakes fingers. frown – glares –stares. Rigid posture • Critical and loud	• Nods head often. • Down cast eyes. Low volume • Meek fast when anxious and slow when in doubt	• Open and natural gestures. • Attentive and interested facial expressions. Direct eye-contact. Confident and relaxed posture • Vocal volume appropriate

Verbal Cues • You must (should or ought) • Don't why. Just do it • Verbal abuse	• You should do it • You have more experience than I do. Monotone, low	• I choose to • Want more options. Is there any other way?
Feelings • Anger • Hostility	• Powerlessness • Wonders why good work is not always rewarded	• Enthusiasm; Even tempered. Balanced mind
Effects • Provokes counter aggression. ill health. Wastes time and energy on supervising others	• Builds up dependency relations. Promotes other's causes	• Increased self-confidence • Motivated

Types of Topics

Factual	Controversial	Abstract
Are about practical things, which an ordinary person is aware of.	Are argumentative in nature and are meant to generate controversy.	Are about intangible things.
Typically these are socio-economic topics which may have been in the news lately, or could be unbound by time.	Objective is to see how much maturity the candidate displays by keeping his temper in check, by rationally and logically arguing his point of view without getting personal and emotional.	Usually not given often for discussion, but their possibility cannot be ruled out. Objective is to test your lateral thinking and creativity.
E.g. The Education Policy of India, Tourism in India, LokPal Bill	E.g. Reservations should be removed, Women make better managers.	E.g. A is an alphabet, Twinkle twinkle little star, The number 10.

List of topics for your practice

1. How to prevent COVID third wave in India?
2. Net Zero
3. The importance of netiquette in the digital age

4. Biomedical waste crisis
5. Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC)
6. Post-Covid world
7. Impact of COVID-19 on Indian economy
8. India's COVID-19 vaccination program
9. The second wave of COVID-19
10. Social media influencers – Impact on youth
11. Development Finance Institution
12. How can we prevent the next pandemic?
13. Formal degrees are things of the past
14. Should junk food be banned?
15. Union Budget 2021-22
16. The Future of Artificial Intelligence
17. Impact of COVID-19 on the education sector
18. The Future of work
19. Blended learning – The new normal
20. Impact of reviews on consumer decisions
21. Carbon footprint
22. Budget 2021 – Impact on banking sector
23. Good politics is bad economics
24. Is social media polarizing society?
25. Fame is a double-edged sword
26. Money or Happiness – Can money make us happy?
27. The rise of the Gig economy
28. Censorship of OTT platforms – Right or Wrong?
29. Is the United Nations still relevant?

30. Should anonymity be allowed on the internet?
31. Farm Bills 2020 – Pros, Cons & Challenges
32. Green Jobs are essential for sustainable development
33. National Recruitment Agency – Pros & Challenges
34. National Education Policy 2020
35. Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyan
36. Open book exams – Pros, Cons & Challenges
37. National Health ID – Pros, Cons & Challenges
38. How to create more jobs in rural areas?
39. How to revive Indian economy?
40. The pen is mightier than the sword
41. E-learning – Pros & Challenges
42. Do deadlines destroy creativity?
43. Private trains in India – Benefits & Challenges
44. Work from home – Pros & Cons
45. How will 2020 shape 2021?
46. Ban on Chinese Apps in India
47. Lessons for the world from COVID-19 pandemic
48. Impact of Coronavirus/COVID-19 on Environment
49. How prepared is India to tackle the COVID-19 outbreak?
50. Electric vehicles in India

Courtesy: groupdiscussionideas.com

How to prepare at the time of group discussion?

In a group discussion, preparation is the key to success. Most of the students fail to generate more ideas and opinions. So the following technique can help you to generate more ideas. If you receive one topic and are not able to generate ideas STEP technique will be able to help you to take a specific approach towards the opinion and you can create your mark in the group discussion.

1. STEP

S – Social/scientific

T – Technology

E – Economy/Education/Environment

P – Political/ Psychological

The next technique is 5 W's and 1 H. This technique will be very easy and useful to generate simple ideas and still you can make a difference in your opinion.

2. 5 W's, 1H

Who

When

What

Which

Why

How

How to present at the time of interview?

The PREP technique is the golden technique to present at the time of group discussion. This technique is very useful to complete your opinion with confidence and conviction.

The technique will work like this.

P –Point

R – Reason

E – Example

P - Point

Evaluation for Group discussion

In the group discussion, you are evaluated on the basis of the following pointers.

1. Personality
2. Communication Skills
3. Knowledge
4. Leadership and teamwork.

Let us cover each pointer in details

Personality

Smartness – appearance – smile on the face

Cheerfulness – free from tensions and nervousness

Enthusiasm – attitude of taking that one step extra

Communication Skills

Fluency – not speed. But poise and right word in the right place

Clarity – Effectiveness of the message

Logic – the presentation skill

Knowledge

Relevance – Topic related

Depth – in and out of the subject, Factual info and data

Leadership

Initiative – taking the lead, breaking the ice, Being in the forefront

Team Spirit – Ability to work with people, Cooperation and consolidation

Do's & Don'ts of Group Discussion

In this segment, we will discuss about dos and don'ts about group discussion and I am sure that you will get benefit out of these steps.

- Respect the contribution of other speakers.
- Speak pleasantly.
- Listen well to the ideas of other speakers; you will learn something.
- Learn to disagree politely.
- Respect that others have differing views.
- Think about your contribution before you speak.
- Try to stick to the discussion topic.

- Your body language should be `open' & friendly.
- Agree & acknowledge anything interesting.
- Stay with the topic. If the discussion does waiver, bring it back on topic by saying `that's an interesting point, can we come back to that later?'
- Try to speak clearly. Don't whisper.

Don'ts

- ✗ Don't take offence if a person disagrees with you.
- ✗ Don't ridicule the contribution of others by using comments like `that's stupid', that's ridiculous, or you're wrong'.
- ✗ Don't try to intimidate another speaker.
- ✗ Don't use a loud or angry tone. Others will not want to listen to you if you are being aggressive.
- ✗ Don't use aggressive gestures like finger-pointing and table-thumping.
- ✗ Try not to dominate the discussion. Confident speakers should allow others a chance to speak.
- ✗ Avoid drawing too much on personal experience.
- ✗ Don't interrupt or talk over another speaker. Listening to others earns you the right to be heard.

Some Myths about GD

- You should speak more (No!)
- You should dominate the discussion (No!)
- You should project yourself in style (No!)
- You should speak in favor of topic (No!)
- You should make others agree to your point (No!)

Summary

1. What is the process of GD?
2. What are the types of GD?
3. What are the types of candidates?
4. What are the types of topics?
5. What are the techniques of preparing and presenting in GD?
6. How are you evaluated in GD?
7. What are the Do's and Don'ts of GD?

Getting Ready for an Interview

9

The interview is an opportunity for both, the interviewer and the candidate to market them. The employer is selling the organization to you, and you are marketing your skills, knowledge, and personality to the employer.

In this segment, we are going to discuss all about personal interview and winning strategies of personal interview. Let us discuss on the following points.

- What is an interview?
- What are the types of interviews?
- How to prepare for an interview?

3 steps success formula - Before the interview/ at the time of interview / after the interview

- How to answer FAQ's and Behavioral questions?

What is an interview?

(www.totaljobs.com)

An interview is essentially a structured conversation where one participant asks questions, and the other provides answers. In common parlance, the word “interview” refers to a one-on-one conversation between an interviewer and an interviewee.

Interview is the golden opportunity for employee and employer to get to know each other and find out whether there is a good fit of

- ☐ skills
- ☐ Experience
- ☐ Attitude

Let us understand the meaning of each letter in INTERVIEW. It is interesting aspect to know and follow every parameter. Let us get started.

I – Build on your Intelligence

N – Natural is best

T – Tell the Truth

E – Engage your panel

R - Relate at a personal level

V - Values make you who you are

I – Imagination adds a little spice

E – Eagerness to belong

W – Wow effect

Isn't it interesting to understand and study all the aspects of interview? And if you follow these parameters you can have winning strategies to conquer the difficult aspect and get your dream offer letter.

What are the types of interviews?

The types of interviews, one is likely to go through require preparedness and a fair amount of confidence, as a job opportunity is usually on the line. The most common types of interviews include

1. One-to-one Interview
2. Telephonic Interview
3. Video conference Interview
4. Group/Panel Interview

1. One-to-one Interview: One to one interview is a formal meeting, maybe the most well-known of the various sorts of meetings. Such interviews require the candidate to meet the business face to face. The employer will pose a few arranged questions — similar questions the employer will pose to all up-and-comers in a particular request. The applicant's answers might be recorded, and the employer is probably going to take notes on the up-and-comer's answers.

2. Telephonic Interview: A telephonic interview is conducted between candidates and employers who are in different areas of the state, country, or world. The questions one will answer in such an interview are generally the same as those asked in a face to face interview, but other questions about relocation and travel may be asked as well.

3. Videoconference Interview: A video conference interview is an ideal component of a long-distance job search. It minimizes travel and other expenses while giving an employer the opportunity to meet with a candidate using a human-like interaction. Video conferencing is becoming very popular in some industries and in almost all the countries. Video conference interviews can connect many participants who are in different locations. Given the number of remote working relationships and the advances that technology brings to the workplace, video conference interviews may connect job-seekers to companies they may not have previously considered.

4. Group panel Interview: Panel interviews occur when a candidate is interviewed by several people at a time. In this round, technical and non-technical rounds may happen at a time which will give absolute clarity to the employer about candidates' knowledge, skills, and abilities. Each person at the table will have his or her own set of questions to ask, and each interviewer will generally focus on a specific area to discuss. One may ask about experience and background, while another interviewer may focus more on goals for the future. A close relative to the panel interview is the sequential interview, in which several people interview the candidate, but instead of all the interviewers perform the interview at once, they will each have an opportunity to interview the candidate one on one.

How to prepare for an interview?

Hiring managers decide who to hire based on the interviews. Your resume helps you get an interview, and references checks and assessment tests are used to validate the conclusions of the interviews however one-on-one interaction is the most important aspect, where you have the opportunity to talk directly to the hiring manager and showcase your knowledge, skills and abilities.

The bottom line is that no matter how great you believe on your knowledge and skills and no matter how many interviews you have “nailed” in the past, everyone benefits from proper preparation.

The preparation and performance of an interview are divided into 3 aspects which are as follows:

1. Before the interview
2. At the time of interview
3. After the interview

Let us check each aspect one by one.

1. Before the interview

Do you have a job interview on your schedule? There are a number of steps you can take before the interview to ensure that you make a terrific impression on your potential employer.

The Best Ways to Prepare for an Interview are as follows.

A. Understanding Job Opportunities

The basic meaning of a job description is a list of certain tasks along with some functions and responsibilities pertaining to a certain position in the organization. Before the interview, please read the Job description which clears 2 things:

- The responsibility areas for a given job profile?
- The skill set for a given job profile?

B. Researching the Company

We often hear from employers that candidates do not know enough about their companies when they interview. Employers gauge how interested you are by how much you know about their organization. This research is an easy way to improve your interview skills.

The following pointers will help you research the company; let us have a look at this:

- About the founder of company
- How old the company is?

- The number of employees the company has
- Areas the company specializes in
- The actual work environment of the company
- The salary range for the given profile within that particular company
- The growth path for the given profile

C. Practice technical and non-technical questions:

As you prepare for your interview, you may be considering which questions the employer is going to ask you. While there's no way to know for sure what topics will be covered, there are several types of popular interview questions you can expect to be asked.

Every interviewer is different and their exact questions may vary. By preparing answers for these common interview questions, you can develop compelling talking points to make a great impression during your next job interview.

D. Update your resume

A good quality, regularly updated resume will considerably boost your chances of getting a face-to-face interview, which is why it is worth spending time and effort on the content and presentation of the document. Remember that your Resume reaches the employer first and then you reach.

Should you take the time to keep your resume? If you don't, you're taking a reactive approach in your career. If you do, you'll be proactively ready to set goals, become an expert and to pursue side consulting gigs and full-time opportunities.

E. Collect all relevant documents.

The reason for collecting documents is to get a full picture of you as a candidate, or to provide confirmation of the details listed in your resume or job application. The employer may request originals of certain documents. Once you have all the supporting documentation gathered up, follow the employer's instructions as to how to submit it. Documents give absolute clarity about your credentials and give confidence to the employer.

Employers may ask for you to upload files or attach them in an email. If the company asks for supporting documentation to be brought to the interview, bring a photocopy of each of the requested documents with you to leave with the hiring manager.

F. Your grooming and appearance

How you appear is essentially the first impression you will make on the person who will interview you. If your appearance is appropriate and well put together, you instantly gain credibility as someone who cares about making a good impression, and who has respect for the company and the interview process.

(www.cscm.mu)

Interview Dress for Men

- A solid-color suit in wool or wool blend, either navy or dark gray, clean and pressed, is standard for a job interview.
- A long-sleeved white or light blue shirt and a silk tie in a solid color or small stripe looks nice.
- Wear leather shoes with dark, mid-calf trouser socks that won't show skin when you sit. It's fine to wear a watch, class ring and wedding ring if desired but no other jewelry.
- A conservative approach is generally best in an interview, so consider removing any visible piercings and covering tattoos, depending on the position. Be sure that your hair is neatly trimmed and facial hair is well-groomed.
- A close-cropped cut is more becoming to balding men than a comb over. Fingernails must be clean and trimmed.
- Avoid strong-smelling after-shave or cologne. Carry a briefcase or portfolio. Even if the job itself would not require a suit, it's customary to dress more formally for the interview. A casual choice would be khakis and a dark blazer.

Interview Dress for Women

- A two-piece suit in a dark or neutral color is suitable for a job interview. Wear a tailored blouse in a coordinating color under the suit jacket.
- Avoid ruffles or low cut tops. A tailored pants suit should be fitted but not super snug. Skirts that are knee-length or slightly longer are best. Plain, comfortable pumps are always a safe choice.

- Avoid open-toe pumps, sandals, and high boots or platform shoes. Wear neutral-colored pantyhose. Large, dangling earrings and clattering bracelets should not be worn because they can be distracting.
- Avoid perfume and cologne; your interviewer may be allergic. Aim for a natural look instead of heavy makeup. Avoid long fingernails painted in crazy colors. Carry a small handbag or a leather briefcase.

F. Time matters

Arriving early to an interview allows you time to de-stress from the journey and collect your thoughts and ideas. It will give you time to go over the questions you have prepared, run through your presentation, and review the answers to questions that are likely to be presented to you.

2. During the interview

A. Ensure consistency in your responses

Consistency matters. Why? Employer often pays as much or more attention to your actions as to what you say. You've probably heard the phrase "consistent action leads to consistent results," which makes logical sense. Consistency comes from practice and commitment. If you're not fully committed, 10/10 commitment in some area of your life that you're looking for results for, you're not going to get it.

As a successful employee your word must be trusted. It is very important to showcase the right balance between your words and actions at the time of interview.

B. Mind your Manners

Your attitude and behavior towards others are as important as your resume, experience, training and technical competencies. Employers are looking for the human qualities that make the difference in business relationships: courtesy, respect, trust and reliability. Manners and respect are the underlying foundation of good relationships, and good relationships translate to business success.

C. Take charge of body language (eye contact, gestures, postures, and handshake)

Enter the interview room with enthusiasm and energy, both of which can help to mask your nervousness. Always remember your effectiveness is a combination of your body language, tone and words. Smile, make eye contact, and try to maintain an open posture (line your shoulders up with the shoulders of the person you are meeting) as you shake hands with each individual in the room. If possible, walk around the side of the table or desk to shake hands; try not to have a barrier between you and the person you are meeting. Introduce yourself using your first and last name as you shake hands.

D. Verbal Language Matters

Despite the major rise in the use of technology, verbal communication is very important in the workplace. Email and smartphones may make it more convenient to communicate, but sometimes only verbal communication gets the point across effectively.

How to Improve Your Verbal Communication Skills?

If you feel your communication skills are lacking, you can improve them by reading books about professional and personal development, or other relevant topics which expand your vocabulary and polish your language. Joining a Toastmasters group in your local area will also do wonders for your communication skills. Toastmasters International is a world leader in communication and leadership development. You can become a more competent communicator through public speaking, courses and other advanced communication training.

3. After the interview

A. Final word

When the interview is over, thank the group for spending time with you. You may ask about the time frame for filling the job and notifying candidates. Make eye contact, shake hands with everyone in the room and try to use the name of each individual as you shake hands. If possible, stop in the outer office to thank the individual who greeted you when you arrived or who took you into the interview room.

B. Recheck your answers

Sometimes employer gives a feedback after the interview and tells areas of improvements. You can make a list of questions which are asked at the time of interview and recheck your answers. This can help you to check and change your approach. You can also overcome your mistakes if you have done any.

C. Use thank you note and thank the panel

Always thank your employer immediately after the interview for the opportunity given and if possible send a thank you note to the employer by email. This activity definitely shows good etiquette and manners.

D. Be open and ready for the feedback

This is the time to work on your feedback and there are a few aspects to that which are as follows.

A. Self-Analysis: Going into a self-analysis mode after an interview is very important. It helps you identify your shortcomings and make you focus on the areas you need to improve at.

Some questions will help you to analyze yourself which are as follows:

Did you prepare well for the interview?

Did you manage to engage the interviewer in an interesting conversation?

Did you back up most answers with the help of success stories?

Were you able to showcase your confident self in front of the interviewer?

Were there things you wished you hadn't said at all?

Do you wish you could have said a few things that you didn't?

B. Feedback from seniors / Employer:

Feedback genuinely is something we as a whole need, regardless in case we're inherently or outwardly roused to accomplish something. It shows us what we do effectively as of now and where we need to create to improve and more fruitful in helping other people and accomplishing our objectives.

Make a note of feedback given by employer and work on those feedback pointers which can be the game changer for your next attempt.

Overseeing what to do after interview is more about holding your nerves under tight restraints and following up effectively. We have heard from such countless people that have thought the interview was horrendous, and still got an offer.

With that being said Good luck for your next job interview.

Summary

1. What is an interview?
2. What are the types of interviews?
3. What are the 3 phases of an interview?
4. What should be the appropriate dress code for men and women?

Frequently asked questions

1. Tell me something about yourself

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How do you market yourself?	• Name and location
• How do you express yourself?	• Highest qualification
• How you can be the asset of the organization?	• Professional certificate, Internship programs, achievements
• Your overall personality	• 2 skills which will match the job requirement
	• How can you be the asset of the organization

2. Tell me something about family background

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Overall economic background	• Talk about family members
• If there is any Business background	• Talk about occupation of family members
• Culture and overall personality of a candidate from family background	• The learning from the family

3. Tell me something which is not there in the CV?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How do you talk about your strengths?	• Talk about your personality
• How do you talk about your personality?	• Talk about your family background, others achievements
• Can you talk about your achievements other than academics?	• Add your overall extra activities which can add value

4. What are your strengths and weaknesses?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Whether you know your strength and how do you demonstrate?	• Talk about 2 strengths and explain by adding relevant examples
• How did you develop your strength?	• Match your strength with job description
• How do you admit your weakness?	• Talk about your action on eliminating your weakness

5. Where will you see yourself after 5 years?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Do you have a long term vision?	• Talk about realistic designation
• Do you have any career goal?	• Talk about plan of action
• How do you plan to accomplish?	• Give the steps of accomplishments

6. What are your short term and long term goals?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How do you plan your life?	• Explain your short term and long term goals?
• What are the short term and long term career goals?	• Explain the steps and plan of action to achieve goals
• How serious are you with career goals?

7. What are the 3 qualities on the basis of which we should hire you?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How do you demonstrate your skills?	• Explain 3 qualities confidently with example
• Can you explain your skills with confidence?	• It is an opportunity to prove you as a different personality
• How do you sell yourself?

8. Tell me a situation where you have taken a tough decision?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Are you an action oriented person?	• Explain a situation, where you have handled a tough situation
• How do you handle pressure?	• Explain your management skills i.e. problem solving, critical thinking skills
• How do you take decisions under pressure?

9. What are your hobbies?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Can you think apart from career?	• Try to tell your serious hobbies in detail
• Do you have some serious hobbies?	• Try to differentiate pass time and hobbies
• Can you reflect some skills out of that?	• Share all information about your hobbies

10. Tell me something about your hometown?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Your general knowledge about your location.	• Share some geographical knowledge about your location
• Your opinion about your location	• Famous food, area, famous things, people can be added to explain

11. What are your salary expectations?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Market analysis and salary expectations	• Be ready and clear with your salary expectations
• How do you demand your salary expectations?	• Show your eagerness of learning instead of salary
• How do you negotiate your salary?	• Negotiate your salary if required and explain the reason

12. Are you ready to travel in any locations?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• If you can demonstrate flexibility and malleability	• Be ready with your answer and explain how can you add value
• Are you ready to accept challenges and work for the organization?	• Share your experience if you have already travelled in the past

13. Have you ever been in a pressure situation and how did you handle?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Have you taken risk in your life and handled a situation?	• Share your experience and mention the decisions you have taken
• How are you ready for such difficult situations?	• Talk about the mechanism you created to handle difficult situations

14. What are your achievements in your life?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How have you designed your life?	• Share your achievements and experience with confidence
• How did you look at your career?	• Talk about your learning and outcome
• What actions helped you to become a successful person?

15. What are your mistakes in life?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Whether you admit your mistakes?	• Try talking about decisions which you have taken and somehow didn't work
• What are the learning's you have received from that?	• Talk about learning and actions taken after that

16. Who is your role model? Why?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Your perspective towards people	• Talk about your ideal personalities which you admire
• How do you admire people and parameters to follow them?	• Talk about qualities of these role model

17. Do you like reading? What type of reading you would like to read?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How do you gather knowledge?	• Talk about the type of reading and books you have read
• What type of reading habits you have installed?	• Add your favorite author, books and value which you get from books

18. Give me an example that supports you being adaptive?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How do you demonstrate your skills?	• Give relevant example which supports you being adaptive
• How do you adopt to situations?	• Know the importance of demonstrating your experience and showcase your skills
• How can you be the right fit for an organization?

19. How do you balance your work life balance?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Your management skills	• Share the importance of work life balance
• Importance of personal and professional life	• Your plan of action on work life balance
• Check of your time management skills

20. If you get a chance in future to get another big opportunity than what will be your decision?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• How do you demonstrate your conviction and seriousness towards the recruitment?	• Stick your answer and be specific about how can you be the asset of the organization.
• Can you manage your goals with organizational vision?

21. What do you know about our organization?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Your readiness towards the organization	• Talk about product, services, vision, mission and values of the company
• What did you research about the company?	• Search CEO message and future goals of the company

22. Do you have any question for me?

Employers view	Pointers to be added
• Check on your involvement in the interview process.	• Be specific and ask about your role, training imparted and project to handle
• Your seriousness and deep study in the process of interview	• Your one or two questions are important to complete the entire interview process

List of Interview questions

Time management

1. Tell me about a goal you set and reached and how you achieved it.
2. Tell me about the last time your workday ended before you were able to get everything done.
3. Give me an example of a time you had to prioritize certain tasks or projects over others.
4. Give me an example of a time when you had to handle multiple responsibilities at once. How did you prioritize your time?
5. Tell me about the last time you handled a long-term project. How did you keep the project on track?

Adaptability

1. Can you share about a time you had to be flexible or adaptable?
2. Tell me about a time when you had to be creative to solve a problem.
3. Tell me about a time you had to learn quickly.
4. Tell me about a time you made a difficult decision.
5. Tell me about how you work under pressure.

Overcoming challenges

1. Tell me about a time when you handled a challenging situation.
2. Tell me about a time when you made a mistake. What did you do to correct it?

3. Give me an example of a time you made a decision that was unpopular and explain how you handled implementing it.
4. Tell me about a goal you failed to achieve.
5. Tell me about a time you felt you went above and beyond.

Motivation and values

1. Give me an example of how you set goals.
2. Tell me about the proudest moment in your professional career why it was meaningful to you.
3. Can you give me an example of a time when you felt dissatisfied with your work?
4. Tell me about a body of work you felt was most impactful for you or your company.
5. How do you stay motivated when a job requires you to perform repetitive tasks?

Communication

1. Tell me about a time when you had to say “no.”
2. Give me an example of a time when you persuaded someone. How’d you do it and why?
3. Talk about a time when you’ve had to manage up.
4. Tell me about a time when you had to explain a complex topic to people with less subject knowledge. How did you make sure everyone could understand you?
5. Tell me about a time you had to build rapport with a coworker or client whose personality was different than yours?

Teamwork

1. Tell me about a time when you collaborated with others who were different than you.
2. Tell me about the best presentation you've given. Why was it good?
3. Tell me about a time when you felt like a good leader.
4. Can you give me an example of how you've contributed to the culture of previous teams, companies or groups?
5. Share an example of how you were able to motivate a coworker, your peers or your team.

Conflict resolution

1. Tell me about a time you disagreed with a supervisor.
2. Tell me about a time you had to stand up for your beliefs.
3. Tell me about a time when you disagreed with your manager's leadership style or team culture.
4. Tell me about a time when you were in conflict with a peer and how the situation was resolved.
5. Tell me about a time you wish you'd handled a situation with a coworker differently.

Credit: Indeed.com

How to Succeed in a Virtual Interview?

10

Have you ever imagined that your interview has been scheduled on a virtual platform and you have everything ready and handy but you are little nervous about your interview? If you are little worried about the new technology and your presence in front of camera? If yes then I have a good news for you and the good news is, this can be worked on and you can give the same interview on virtual platform the way you give face to face. If you are ready, let us discuss about that.

Many organizations have adjusted a style of distant work by utilizing video frameworks like Zoom, Skype to associate practically with their representatives. Employers, who are still effectively employing are, settling on virtual connections to replace face to face new employee screenings. This change in the vocation commercial center has changed the manner in which we direct our expert lives and employing measures.

What is a virtual interview?

(www.linkedin.com)

A virtual interview is an interview that takes place remotely, sometimes over the phone, but often using technology like video conferencing and other online communication platforms.

Virtual meetings are empowered by the innovative advances that have been found in the new past. Individuals going to the gathering don't have to leave their work station or any place they will be, they can go to meetings. The meetings can be held via telephone, by means of video assemble and through other virtual conference delicate products, similar to zoom, Google meet and different stages.

If you're currently on the job hunt or moving to the next step of the hiring process, here are some best tips and techniques which will put you on the path of success.

Let us divide these tips and techniques into 3 parts

1. Before the interview
2. During the interview
3. After the interview

Before the interview

Before the interview, you have got many responsibilities to follow and these steps are very important to feel confident and act confident. Let us discuss these parameters one by one.

1. Test your technology:

It's basic that you check and test your technology a few times before the meeting to guarantee smooth working. Make certain to double-check your Wi-Fi association, camera, sound and video conferencing stages to affirm they are generally working flawlessly.

Have a backup plan if everything fails. I am not a techno savvy person but I know that testing the technology beforehand and backup plan can give you tremendous confidence.

2. Wear professional attire:

In a virtual interview, you should dress the same as you would in a face-to-face interview. Doing so not only makes you appear professional and excited about the opportunity, but it will also make you feel more prepared and confident.

You can create a great first impression by keeping your area clean and limit any interruptions if there is any. Trust me there is no second chance to create first impression.

3. Prepare in advance

Preparation is a skill that can be learnt with discipline and experience. For some, planning and preparation may come naturally but for others, they invariably prefer to meet and deal with challenges and problems as they arise.

It is important to prepare, so you are able to have a natural conversation without clicking around or reading directly from a script, which can seem rehearsed and unnatural.

Preparing consists of getting ready in all dimensions. It consists of understanding job role, searching the company, your career objectives, the job location and common questions which you may certainly come across.

4. Position yourself in a well, quiet and clean space.

It's essential to choose a quiet and clean space to attend your interview, especially if you're on the virtual platform. This will help you to focus on your interview and show the right and professional approach to the employer.

5. Go for a Practice Run

Have you ever heard this phrase, practice makes man perfect or practice improves performance? You heard it right. If you get a chance to practice on the same technology where your interview is getting held, there is no chance that you can go wrong.

6. Be Yourself

If you are thinking that you should reflect or present in a different and unique style, unfortunately you are going wrong. In fact 'being you' can create a better and long lasting impression. Interviewers are looking at you to help them gauge to see if you are the right person for the role and for the organization.

7. Visualize success to maintain confidence at the time of interview.

How wonderful it is to visualize your success before it happens. Once you're able to visualize it, achieving that outcome will seem easier. In the spiritual world, it is well proven that your subconscious mind understands pictures better though successful visualization techniques are different for different people. In other words, the ones that people use depend largely upon their preferences and what works best for them.

Some of the situations may help to visualize success at the time of interview. Visualize how you would like the ideal interview to unfold. Visualize a past interview or meeting that went extremely well.

Visualize your dream company and offer letter is handy with you.

8. Keep documentation ready (Soft copy)

It is equally important to scan documents and keep a soft copy ready. It may consist of educational certificates, your achievements, and professional certificates. You may need it to showcase at the time of interview.

9. Be on time

Being late for your scheduled interview can be an indication that you don't pay attention to important details. It proves that you do not value others' time. A lack of punctuality smacks off disrespect. That's the last impression you want to leave interviewers with.

In order to avoid above situation, plan to connect on a virtual platform about 10-15 minutes before the interview.

I am sure that these tips and techniques can be very useful to prepare for any virtual interview.

After that the next step is to act during interview. Once you are ready, let us start the journey.

During the interview

1. Greet the panel

Greetings are vital to make that first good impression, establish good rapport with your employer and set a positive tone for any conversation.

If you want to be an effective personality, you should not ignore the importance of greetings. Delivering right impression and proper greetings can make good impact on others and climb the ladder of success sooner.

Just to summarize, greet the panel by saying good morning, good afternoon and good evening to set the right tone of your interview.

2. Use effective communication techniques

Communication plays a big role in the Job Interview. You communicate with the interviewer by means of both verbal and nonverbal Communication. The words you speak, the things you carry, your dress, your eye contact, your way of answering questions, your tone etc. everything speaks about the person you are within and your personality.

Following techniques can create power of readiness in you and you will be able to speak with confidence and conviction on the virtual platform. Let us discuss about effective communication parameters.

A. Sit up straight, maintain the deception of eye contact by looking at the webcam and not at the image on your computer screen, and don't slouch, yawn, or fidget.

B. Use 55-38-7 technique (55% body language, 38% tone, 7% words)

According to Mehrabian's rule of personal communication, when people transmit information words account for 7%, tone of voice — for 38%, and body language — for 55%.

The rule has become so popularized, it is now included in trainings for personal growth and marketing messages.

Just think for a moment, if you demonstrate this famous research what are the chances of your effective communication? I believe that you can do an amazing job to demonstrate confidence, conviction and courage.

Body language consists of gestures, postures, facial expressions and many other parameters.

Tone consists of pitch, volume, modulation, rate of speech which can set the tone of your interview also the language consist of the variety of words which enables you to become effective at the time of interview.

C. Rapport building

So, while your skills and experiences are important elements to secure a job offer, your ability to build rapport in an interview is just as important. The rapport you establish during an interview can greatly impact the impression you leave behind. Here are some tips to help you ace the interview:

- 1 Know the Company and Your Interviewer
- 2 Listen Carefully and Create a Conversation
- 3 Ask Questions
- 4 Leverage Positive Body Language
- 5 Select the assertive tone

D. Smile on face

Smile at the beginning and the end of the interview. At the beginning, your smile shows enthusiasm for the job and a degree of self-confidence. During the interview, have a serious conversation by avoiding unnecessary smile.

E. Use courtesy words

Using words and phrases that reflect common courtesy will keep employer interaction respectful and consequently improve rapport.

Let's also look at the most common courtesy words, which can be sprinkled into an interaction as a signal of mutual respect.

"Please"

Don't forget to say please when asking for information from the employer! Doing otherwise will seem rude and may damage any rapport that had been built previously.

"You're welcome"

When employers appreciate and express their gratitude, saying "you're welcome sir/madam" shows that such acknowledgement statements are a powerful tool to engage the employer.

"Thank you"

When the employer hands over their information or appreciates you or even acknowledges on the certain points, it is important to say thank you.

F. Be assertive

Assertiveness can help you control pressure and outrage and further develop adapting abilities.

Perceive and learn emphatic conduct and correspondence. Being assertive is a center correspondence ability. Being assertive implies that you put yourself out there adequately and defend your perspective, while likewise regarding the rights and convictions of a business.

G. Use action words / Impressive and Business English Vocabulary

When it comes to using your vocabulary during the course of interview, it's important to find words and phrases that allow you to express yourself in a concise way.

I believe that, these tips and techniques will cover the maximum portion of your etiquette and your complete presence at the time of interview. Let us talk about some presentation tips and techniques.

3. Use effective presentation techniques

A. Plan your presentation

Planning is the process of thinking about the activities required to achieve a desired goal. It is the first and foremost activity to achieve desired results.

At the time of interview, it is equally important to plan few things which are as follows.

1. Plan your timeline of every answer and content you prepare.
2. Identify your purpose of job, set clear realistic expectations and be ready with your short and long term goals.
3. Be clear with what do I want the employer to gain from my answers and complete presentation.

B. Prepare in advance

Preparation is the key to success. Preparation consists of preparing yourself, material and flow of your content.

Preparing yourself consists of the following

Once you are prepared, you can handle any challenge which comes your way.

C. Practice for perfection

Everyone has to do it in some way or another. We all have to do something multiple times and repeat the same or different actions over and over in order to achieve the goal that we have set for ourselves. This is practice, and though it may be tiring and annoying sometimes, we can all agree that it has helped us in the long run. Whether it is a piece of music, a speech, a dance, routine, or your dream interview, they all require us to commit and routinely do the action.

You can practice your interview skills with the help of following parameters.

1. Mirror Exercise: You can stand in front of mirror and practice your presentation. This can give your realistic view about your expressions, and your style of presenting.
2. Recording Session: You can check the voice modulation by recording your audio and video sessions. This will help you to change your voice modulation if required.
3. Free Demo and feedback: If you get a chance to demonstrate your interview skills in front of your coach or in front of your seniors, I believe that you can achieve two things out of that.
 1. You can get a real feel of interview before actual interview takes place
 2. You can expect a feedback from your coach and seniors

D. Present with conviction

Now it is your time to present your experience and your story at the time of interview with Authority, Confidence, and Energy.

In order to present with conviction, remember these pointers.

A. Avoid redundancy in your speech

Unfortunately, many speakers use sentences that are too wordy. You may get interrupted at the time interview so it is very important to be clear and concise.

B. Be honest with your answers

Honest Answers encourages employer to engage in discussions and if you're honest then it is very easy for the employer to structure better questions. Also you can create a big picture by creating a ground of trust and belief.

C. Say no if you do not know the answer

If you ever find yourself in such a situation where you don't know the answer to employer's question, do not try to manage the answer every time or don't immediately resort to a panic response.

It is absolutely ok to say 'No' to one of the answers. It is very important to accept that you do not have appropriate answer and your employer will also accept if you tell honestly that you do not have the answer right now and you will find out the answer after the interview.

I am sure that by handling such situations, you prove your personality. Don't you think so?

At last but not least, it is your responsibility to create your own good story and trust me employer would like to know your story to check the right fit for their requirement.

I wish you all the best for next virtual interview and career.

People will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel.

Maya Angelou

After the interview

First of all congratulations, you have gone through the most stressful part. Now knowing what to do after the interview can influence the outcome.

1. Use thank you note and thank the panel

Always thank your employer immediately after the interview for the opportunity given and if possible send a thank you note to the employer by email. This activity definitely shows good etiquette and manners.

2. Recheck your answers

Sometimes the employer gives a feedback after the interview and tells areas of improvements. You can make a list of questions which are asked at the time of interview and recheck your answers. This can help you to check and change your approach. You can also overcome your mistakes if you have done any.

3. Be open and ready for feedback

This is the time to work on your feedback and there are few aspects to that which are as follows.

1. Self-Analysis: Going into a self-analysis mode after an interview is very important. It helps you identify your shortcomings and make you focus on the areas you need to improve at.

2. Feedback from seniors/ Employer: Make a note of feedback given by seniors and employer which can be the game changer for your next attempt.

Managing what to do after interview is more about keeping your nerves in check and following up correctly. Don't ever skip these steps because if you are thinking that job interview went terribly and there is no point to follow up. We have heard from so many individuals that have thought the interview was awful, and still got an offer.

With that being said Good luck for your next job interview.

TIPS AND TECHNIQUES FOR GRAND SUCCESS

1. Keep your promises
2. Always be on time
3. Say Please and Thank you
4. Spend time to introspect and retrospect
5. Take calculated risks to make better decision
6. Write a journal everyday
7. Always be grateful to people
8. Always be committed to your actions
9. Learn the art of giving
10. Meditate for peace and confidence
11. Surround yourself with good and likeminded people

12. Install good habits for success
13. Start doing what you love
14. Take action and follow up on your results
15. Pay attention to your words and actions
16. Improve your Self esteem
17. Spend time on Self-reflection
18. Follow a role model
19. Work on your passion and create your own identity
20. Write down your short term and long term goals
21. Face your fear with courage
22. Always be friendly and assertive with people
23. Evaluate your goals everyday
24. Manage your life by managing time
25. Celebrate your small achievements
26. Install new habits every year and share with your friends
27. Exercise everyday
28. Discipline yourself for success
29. Motivate yourself
30. Read books to elevate your knowledge
31. Work on your knowledge, skills and attitude
32. Always be consistent with your responses
33. Redefine your success
34. Watch motivational videos and inspire others
35. Build your own team
36. Spend at least 1 hour on self-development

37. Discover the purpose of your life
38. Learn to live in the present
39. Knowledge is power
40. Believe on people and their intentions
41. Always try to be wealthy by hard work
42. Hire a mentor for continuous learning
43. Focus on your goals
44. Be a good Public speaker
45. Know your industry better
46. Appreciate people for their work and achievements
47. Always be creative and innovative
48. Find out the secret of your happiness
49. Respect people and smile
50. Make a dream collage
51. Stay productive and committed everyday

Get in touch and send him your reviews:

Phone: +91 9850987541

Email: sukrutlifecoach@gmail.com

Linkedin: linkedin.com/in/sukrut-patwardhan-986934170

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/sukrut.patwardhan>

Website: <https://sukrutlifecoach.com>

